Effort To Upset Combines Act of Canada Fails

Privy Council Upholds Canadian Trade Inquiries

Appeal of Proprietary Articles Trade Association Against Combines Investigation Act Dismissed by Judicial Committee in London; Ontario Attorney-General Says Prosecutions in Other Cases to be Carried Out; Bread Price and Movie Investigations Will be Continued Under Statute Passed During King Government's Term.

Canadian Press

London, Jan. 29.—The judicial committee of the Privy Council here today dismissed the appeal of the Proprietary Articles Trade Association of Canada. Thus, in one of the most important judgments handed down for Canada in years, Judicial Committee decided the Dominion Combines Act is valid.

The Proprietary Articles Trade Association appealed from a decision of the Supreme Court of Canada, which ruled unanimously the Combines Act was valid.

CODE UPHELD

The P.A.T.A. also contested the validity of the section 493 of the Criminal Code of Canada, and in dismissing the appeal the Judicial Committee likewise upheld the validity of that section. The judgment said that in their lordships' opinion section 493 of the Criminal Code and the greater part of the Combines Investigation Act fell within the power of the Dominion Government to legislate as to matters falling within the class of subjects in the criminal law, including the procedure in criminal matters.

"The substance of the act," the judgment continued, "is to define and to make criminal combinations which the legislature, in the public interest, intends to prohibit. The definition is wide and may cover activities which have not hitherto been considered criminal."

"But only those combinations are affected which have operated or are likely to operate to the detriment, or against the interest, of the public. And if Parliament genuinely determines that commercial activities which can be so described, are to be suppressed in the public interest, then the Judicial Committee sees no reason why Parliament should not make them crimes."

"The criminal law," the judgment went on, "is certainly not confined to what was criminal by the law of England or of any province in 1867, when Confederation came about. The power must extend to legislation to make definitions of new crimes."

"It is not enough, however, for Parliament to rely solely on its powers to legislate as to criminal law," the judgment added. "The remedies given under sections 22 and 30, reducing the customs duty and revoking the patents, have no necessary connection with criminal law. Their lordships have no doubt they can both be supported as being reasonably ancillary to the powers given respectively under section 91."

UNDER TARIFF WALL

The judgment declared it was unfortunate beyond dispute that in a country where a general protective tariff exists, persons may be found to take advantage of protection and within its walls form combinations that may work to the public disadvantage. (Concluded on Page 2)

STEVEN'S RECOVERS

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—Although suffering some discomfort, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, was reported today to have passed a fairly satisfactory night. Mr. Stevens underwent a double operation on Tuesday.

MERGER OF B.C. AND PRAIRIE RACE TRACKS IS REPORTED

Vancouver, Jan. 29.—A Calgary dispatch to The Vancouver Province today said:

"The greatest merger in the history of Canadian racing is expected to be consummated in Vancouver next week with the purchase by the R. J. Speers Corporation of Winnipeg, the one-mile track at Lansdowne Park, long-term leases on the Brighouse Park one-mile track and the Hastings Park half-mile track, and the linking up of the Vancouver, Calgary and Winnipeg tracks to provide one of the greatest racing circuits on the continent."

"R. J. Speers of Winnipeg is expected to pass through Calgary today en route to Vancouver, where a final attempt will be made to complete negotiations, which have been under way for nearly a year."

"The sum of $250,000 is said to be involved in the Vancouver transaction alone."

GANDHITES REJECT PLAN OF MACDONALD

India Congress Committee at Allahabad Indicates Disobedience to Continue

Gandhi Joins in Discussion; Another Session Set For Next Sunday

Allahabad, United Provinces, Jan. 29.—Members of the working committee of the All-India Nationalist Congress, sponsors of the campaign of civil disobedience, today revealed at an informal meeting that they were virtually opposed to the British offer of a revised constitutional status for India.

The revised status was evolved at the recent Round-table Conference in London, at the close of which Premier MacDonald offered India an eventual qualified dominion status, reserving only the questions of foreign relations, financial safeguards and defence to the British authority in India.

GANDHI AT MEETING

Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the Nationalist forces who came here yesterday from Bombay, played a leading role in today's meeting. Consultations on the work of the Round-table Conference are to open in India shortly, but apparently the Nationalists do not intend to participate, though nothing definite has been decided.

MODERATES OUTVOTED

Some of the more moderate members of the working committee favored suspension of the present Congress (Concluded on Page 2)

Lights Seen On The St. Lawrence Are Investigated

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—Reports from residents of Grand Metis on the lower St. Lawrence River that they saw lights flicking out in the middle of the stream a few days ago are being investigated by the Department of Marine. Coupled with the reports which reached Ottawa was a rumor that an airplane, supposed to have been used in the bootlegging trade, disappeared off Manitoulin in that district about a week ago.

The reports claimed the lights were almost in the middle of the river, and residents of Grand Metis suggested they might be signals from shipwrecked mariners or from lost aviators. Departmental officers wired the light-house keeper at Metis to investigate the reports, and the government-subsidized steamer, Salbe, was ordered to maintain a sharp look-out when in that locality.

FOOTBALL BRIBE SENDS MAN TO JAIL IN SCOTLAND

Glasgow, Scotland, Jan. 29.—For attempting to bribe a soccer football player to throw a match, Archibald Kyle, former Scottish international player, today was sentenced to three months' hard labor. Kyle, who was arrested under the Prevention of Corruption Act, offered $500 to William Moffat, captain of the Hamilton Academicals, a club playing in the first division of the Scottish league, to allow his team to be beaten by Leth Athletic at Hamilton on January 3.

EARTH SHOCKS FELT IN SPAIN

Alcoy, Spain, Jan. 29.—An earthquake was felt here at 1:30 p.m. yesterday. Residents were greatly frightened, but there were no casualties and little damage. Light and power were disrupted for a while.

A severe earthquake was reported at the Gonzales Observatory at 1:37 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the seismograph record continuing for three hours. It is estimated that the distance of the disturbance from Victoria was 5,000 miles, probably in a south-west direction. This places it somewhere in the Pacific Ocean, south of Japan, and in the region of the islands of Formosa and Guam.

COMMISSION'S 80,000-WORD REPORT STIRS MUCH DEBATE

George W. Wickersham, chairman of the United States Law Enforcement Commission, today's voluminous report on its investigation of prohibition in the republic when the above picture was taken. The suggestions submitted among the 80,000 words have already produced millions of words of debate in Congress and throughout the United States which it is predicted will reach its climax in 1932, when the Presidential election, though not a direct referendum, will give the people their clearest opportunity since 1920 to express their views on the whole question.

PLANE LANDS ON FOOTBALL FIELD HERE

Pilot Unable to Find Lansdowne Road in Fog So Comes Down at Beacon Hill

Unable to find the Lansdowne air field in the fog that hung low over the city this morning, the two-seater airplane "Anja" from Vancouver circled over the city several times in an attempt to make a landing, finally coming down on the football field in Beacon Hill Park, on Douglas Street at the end of the carline. Pilot W. McKinnon made a perfect landing. Residents of the Beacon Hill district, seeing the plane flying low over the roofs of the houses, thought at first something was amiss and were almost prepared for a crash when they saw the plane came to a smooth landing on the football field and taxi along about one hundred feet before coming to rest. Two young strikers hopped out of the plane and inquired from the large crowd that had gathered on the field, where the Lansdowne airfield was. Ready information was given and directions as to how to find the field. Within five minutes the flyers were back in their plane and away again. They again taxied along the field and climbed up over the hill, coming within about five feet of the broom, again giving the spectators a thrill.

A few minutes later the plane came to rest again, this time near the hangar on Lansdowne Road, another perfect landing being made. The flyers then came into the city to pay a few business calls before returning to Vancouver.

INDEPENDENTS DEBATE FRUIT MARKET PLANS

B.C. Growers, Meeting at Vernon, Discuss Proposals

Canadian Press

Vernon, B.C., Jan. 29.—This afternoon the annual general meeting of the Independent Growers' Association will be held in the Vernon Board of Trade room. At the meeting there will be elections of officers and consideration of resolutions, but the carefully prepared plan for marketing will not be disclosed. It is desired to hold that until after the announcement of the decision by the Supreme Court on the validity of the British Columbia Produce Marketing Act. Therefore after the business has proceeded for a time adjournment will be made for one week. The next session will open in Kelowna, Thursday, February 5.

Utmost secrecy surrounds the proposals, but it is known they are along the lines advised in the Sanford Evans report and it is believed they include a provision for licensing of shippers.

CAUSES U.S. TO APOLOGIZE TO ITALY

MAJ.-GEN. SMEDLEY D. BUTLER

CAUSES U.S. TO APOLOGIZE TO ITALY

Rome Assured Gen. Butler Did Not Speak For U.S. in Criticizing Mussolini

Officer of Marines Confined to Barracks in Virginia Awaiting Courtmartial

Washington, Jan. 29.—The United States Government apologized today to Premier Mussolini of Italy because of a recent speech in Philadelphia by Major-General Smedley D. Butler of the Marine Corps, in which remarks deprecatory to the Premier figured.

Secretary of State Stimson, in a note handed Italian Ambassador Di Martino, formally apologized to Signor Mussolini and the Italian people for the remarks Butler made. Only a short while before, Secretary of the Navy Adams had ordered a courtmartial for the celebrated officer of Marines.

Butler had been reported publicly as saying he had been told by a friend that Signor Mussolini's automobile had struck a child and that the Premier had driven on without stopping.

Butler's explanation of the incident, said today that on the strength of the order for a courtmartial it seemed fair to assume he had adopted the "substance" of his alleged Philadelphia remarks criticizing Mussolini.

CORRECTLY QUOTED

"Having learned from the Navy Department that Major-General Smedley D. Butler, United States Marine Corps, a formal statement issued by Stimson said, 'has admitted the quotation of his remarks in the press was substantially correct. I have this morning handed a note to the Italian Ambassador expressing to Signor Mussolini and to the Italian people the deep regret of this government for the unauthorized action on the part of an officer on active duty.'"

Ambassador Di Martino called on the Secretary of the latter's request, to receive the note. The Ambassador expressed satisfaction after his conference with the Secretary that the United States Government had acted to ameliorate what was considered by the Italians an affront to Italy.

TEXT OF NOTE

The American note was dated January 29, and read as follows: "Excellency: 'I have the honor to express the deep regret which this government feels in the reflections against the Prime Minister of Italy in the unauthorized speech of Major-General Smedley D. Butler, United States Marine Corps, at Philadelphia, Jan. 19. 'The sincere regret of this government is extended to Mr. Mussolini and to the Italian people for this discourteous and unwarranted utterance by the commissioned officer of this government on active duty.'"

"Accept, Excellency, this renewed assurance of my highest consideration. (Signed) STIMSON." (Concluded on Page 2)

MANY HOMELESS AFTER QUAKE IN ALBANIA

KORITZA, Albania, Jan. 29.—Earthquakes which began at dawn yesterday and continued throughout the day caused considerable destruction in Koritza and hereabouts. At least four persons lost their lives and many were injured.

Seven hundred and fifty houses were destroyed, damaged, or made uninhabitable and their occupants forced into the open. The homeless have suffered intensely as a consequence of the bitter weather.

The government is organizing air-plane provisioning facilities for isolated villages which suffered in the quake.

King Zogu, seeking medical treatment at Vienna for an inflamed throat, decided today to return personally to Albania to superintend relief work in the stricken areas.

Tremors also shook Hindenburg Province in Upper Silesia, but damage there was comparatively slight.

JOSEPHINE K. POSITION IS IN DISPUTE

Arrived on the scene in response to a radio call, he said the Josephine K. was tied up to the cutter CG-161, which had gone to the aid of the cutter CG-145 shortly after the capture.

Tables of tide for Saturday show low water at 5:08 p.m. and high water at 11:05 a.m. Sandy Hook, not far from the Ambrose Lightship, near where the capture was made. This would indicate the Josephine K. could have drifted a considerable distance on the flood tide, had it been left free of control.

When Capt. Bixlett finally arrived on the scene and checked the position of the Josephine K. and the cutter

CG-161 they were then 11.7 miles off the nearest land, he said.

SPEED TESTED

New York, Jan. 29.—The Josephine K., Canadian run, captured off the Ambrose Lightship last Saturday night after its master had been mortally wounded by a coastguard shell, steamed down the bay to-day to race with the CG-145, the ship which shelled and seized the vessel.

The purpose of the race, which was arranged by the coastguard board of inquiry, was to determine whether the cutter had speed enough to overhauled the run ship without resorting to direct fire.

The board heard testimony before the race from Capt. S. A. Bixlett, executive officer of the coastguard cutter Sebago, which drew up alongside the Josephine K. a few hours after the shelling.

Bixlett testified he checked the position of the run ship by gyro compass and by radio compass, and determined at that time it was 11.7 miles off shore.

PIRATES ON BARGE

Captain Mario Landi, of the barge Brooklyn, which was seized with the Josephine K., explained to the board of inquiry that 1,400 cases of liquor found aboard the Brooklyn were there through no fault of his. A band of twenty-five men, many of whom held their hands in apparent readiness to draw revolvers, forced him to accept the cargo when he was on his way back from a trip to the ocean dumping grounds, where he had deposited a load of refuse, he testified. His barge was used for municipal garbage dumping.

The captain declared the boarding party, coming from the Josephine K., ordered him below with his crew and began loading barrel-wrapped packages on his scow. Shots interrupted that activity, he said, and straight away the interlopers got furious, dropping the packages over the side into the water.

About that time a speedboat pulled alongside and the band of twenty-five boarded her and disappeared in the darkness. Shortly thereafter, Landi said, the cutter 145 appeared and he and his crew of two were arrested.

DOX FLIGHT DELAYED FOR MORE TESTS

Big German Flying Boat, Brazil Bound, to Leave Lisbon Saturday For Madeira

Canadian Press

Lisbon, Portugal, Jan. 29.—Departure of the DO-X, giant German flying boat, on the first stage of a transatlantic flight to Brazil, today was delayed until Saturday to permit further tests of newly-arrived motors and recent wing repairs.

The start of the trip originally was planned for this morning, but it was said a trial flight yesterday had failed to give complete satisfaction. The ship's site is by way of Madeira, the Cape Verde Islands, the Canary Islands and Ntal, Brazil, to Rio de Janeiro.

Captain Friedrich Christiansen this morning said the start was definitely fixed for Saturday, providing of course the weather was good. This afternoon the motors were thoroughly inspected.

The personnel of this flight, besides Captain Christiansen, will include: Host Metz, pilot and flying officer; Clarence Schillbauer, United States flier; second pilot, Wilhelm Niemann, and three other crew members and six passengers.

The ship is scheduled to start with half a ton of mail and about 4,400 gallons of fuel, enough to last until it reaches the first refueling station.

ALBERTA HOUSE STARTS WORK OF SESSION

Aid For Farmers and Coal Mining Industry Indicated at Formal Opening

Canadian Press

Edmonton, Jan. 29.—Unemployment relief measures, debt adjustment, wheat pool guarantees, co-operative credits and other questions directly connected with prevailing financial conditions in Alberta were discussed at the opening of the session of the Alberta House of Commons at 3 this afternoon.

The speech, which was read before a large gathering of members and guests by Lieutenant-Governor William Egbert, frankly recognized the present was an abnormal time, and that ways and means of meeting various unusual situations would form the major part of the session's programme.

Refutation of the natural resources of Alberta's public domain, the Dominion was indicated as one of the brighter spots on the list, and substantial progress in the oil industry and certain phases of agriculture were also pointed to.

FARMING AND MINING

It would be necessary, however, the Speech from the Throne pointed out, to give careful consideration to the question of stabilizing agriculture. Some means of improving conditions in the coal mining industry would also be discussed by the legislature, while in regard to the estimates of expenditure for the coming year it was stated there was too narrow for sure navigation.

The removal of Riple Rock is a necessity, not a luxury.

Capt. Edgecombe said that, in his opinion, Riple Rock should be removed to forty feet below low water, and that if possible, he described the difficulties of navigating through Seymour Narrows and said that if Canoe Pass were open, the eddies, cross-currents, counter-currents and the strength of tides might all be increased in the Narrows.

Commander Nichols declared in an August, 1927, in Seymour Narrows, had cost the Canadian National $85,000 for repairs and $25,000 through loss of business. He said it was a miracle no one was killed.

LOSS OF LIFE FEARED

"Any bad accident near Riple Rock would probably cost innumerable lives," he said. "There is no way people can clamber ashore. The bluffs are too steep. The chances are seventy-five per cent in favor of a vessel foundering if it strikes Riple Rock."

Capt. A. A. Gilbert, commander of the steamer Prince Rupert, testified that in his opinion, Seymour Narrows was becoming more dangerous as larger vessels used the passage. He declared no vessel was absolutely safe now in the Narrows except within a short period after slack water.

To build a bridge pier on Riple Rock would make eddies and currents worse than they were now, he said.

CLOSING OPPOSED

Capt. Saunders opposed the closing of the Narrows, saying that would leave the navigable channel narrower than it was to-day. He urged Riple Rock be cut down to at least forty feet below low water, because some tankers using the inside passage to-day drew twenty-nine feet and were likely to settle another two feet or more in rough water.

H. D. Parizeau, who will submit his evidence-in-chief in Victoria to-morrow, said another rock 600 feet south of Riple Rock would have to be removed if the government should intend to take away Riple Rock. The southern pinnacle was twenty-seven feet below low water.

EXPLAINED IN LETTER

The action of Secretary Adams in ordering a court-martial followed receipt of a letter from Butler to the Secretary in which he gave his version of the recent speech in Philadelphia.

Major-General Fuller, marine commander, informed Butler General Butler's order, and told him to confine himself to the limits of his station at the marine barracks at Quantico, Virginia. General Butler was in Philadelphia yesterday evening.

General Butler spoke before the Contemporary Club in Philadelphia January 19 and was quoted as saying he had been told by a friend of the Italian premier's automobile accident. The premier immediately sent a denial to the Italian Embassy and the protest to the State Department by Italian Ambassador Di Martino followed.

READY TO QUIT

Yesterday there was a report that Maj.-Gen. Butler, only man in the United States to have been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor on two occasions, was about to submit his resignation to accept a position with a large financial corporation.

Butler had a stormy period of five years ago when he served Philadelphia as Director of Public Safety. Having been loaned by the Marine Corps to head the city's police department in its effort to end a crime wave.

Bennett Silent On Parliament Session Date

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—Premier R. B. Bennett has no comment to make today when a statement issued by R. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, was referred to him. Mr. King's statement asked for an early announcement of the date of the opening of Parliament.

A meeting of the cabinet was held this forenoon.

Premier Bennett entrusted for Washington at 2:30 this afternoon. The United States minister to Canada, Col. Manford MacNider, boarded the same train for the United States capital. Premier Bennett was accompanied by W. D. Herridge of Ottawa.

The act which the Privy Council today rendered judgment was sponsored by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, then Prime Minister, and his then Minister of Labor, Hon. James Macdonald. The administration was assigned to the Department of Labor, chiefly because that branch was more representative of the consumer's interests than any other administrative department. About 200 different cases have come within the purview of those charged with administering the act.

The association ceased its operations, but protested that the Combines Investigation Act was invalid. The government was asked to submit it to the courts, and a reference was accordingly made to the Supreme Court of Canada. The terms were:

In Section 496 of the Criminal Code ultra vires, either in whole or in part, and so in what particular or particulars or to what extent?"

The unanimous finding of the Supreme Court, rendered in April, 1929, was in the negative.

BREAD PRICE INQUIRY

The present decision is of particular interest inasmuch as it comes at a time when the merger movement and consolidations in industry are at their height—when business is being conducted on a local scale, but is provincial, national, and even international. Those charged with the administration of the act have been conducting a survey of bread, flour and wheat prices, dealing with a situation that is not local but nation-wide in its ramifications and is controlled, in some instances, by a foreign milling company with branches in every part of Canada. There has been no report yet on the bread and wheat price inquiry.

Other matters under their attention are the investigation of the motion picture industry, which is nation-wide and has important affiliations in the United States; the survey of wheat and flour prices, dealing with a situation that is not local but nation-wide in its ramifications and is controlled, in some instances, by a foreign milling company with branches in every part of Canada. An early ruling is thus expected at Windsor on the question of whether the Combines Act is ultra vires. The Combines Act was ultra vires and whether Section 496 of the Criminal Code was ultra vires the Parliament of Canada.

Two, Caught in Bed, Had Nitroglycerin and Pistols

Vancouver, Jan. 29.—Holding a room in a lodging house on Cambie Street here early to-day, detectives arrested two suspects in connection with recent robberies and seized two bottles of nitro-glycerine, six sticks of dynamite, a revolver, an automatic pistol and a quantity of stolen goods.

The arrested men were held to face an identification lineup in connection with the case of N. Davidson, who was held up while driving in his store on Robson Street and robbed.

At 8:30 a.m. the officers started a house-to-house search and came on the two suspects in bed. One arose and opened the door in response to a knock. He was quickly covered with police revolver. His companion, who was still lying in bed, made an attempt to reach a fully-loaded automatic pistol beneath a pillow but was seized by Detective Kirkham.

GREAT BRITAIN IS TO DEFEND SCHNEIDER CUP

Canadian Press

London, Jan. 29.—The Government, yielding to wide popular demand, has changed its mind about holding aloof from this year's Schneider Cup race and Great Britain will participate.

The Premier told the House of Commons to-day a deputation with which he had conferred had "told him the money required could be raised from private sources. The Government was now prepared to authorize a defence of the Schneider trophy by the Royal Air Force, provided assurance should be given immediately that the necessary funds would be available from such sources."

BREWERIES DOMINATING GOVERNMENT*Liquor Board Submits to Dictation of B.C. Monopoly on Beer Purchasing*Conservatives Chafe at the Failure of Leaders to Break Combine

Although the burning subject of the Liquor Control Board's beer purchases and the alleged combine against which Conservatives leveled their attacks when they spoke from the Opposition benches may never reach the floor of the British Columbia Legislature at the forthcoming session the grim spectre of the British Columbia brewers' powerful lobby threatens to hover over members and through the corridors from February 11 until the session closes.

Despite the broadsides fired at the purchasing methods of the old board and promises that it would be changed as soon as the Conservatives were in power, the former method stands unchanged after two and a half years with members of the Government party wide apart in their views on any plan to change.

Recent developments which have focused attention on the subject indicate that the influence of the brewers has threatened any plans for a change which may have been contemplated in purchasing methods. Apparently, at the present time, the grip of the brewers on the Government is so strong that the importation of beer from other provinces, or the entry in the British Columbia field of breweries now operating outside of the province cannot be put into effect.

Political complications are declared to have been responsible for the withdrawal of the offer of the Associated Breweries of Alberta to establish a brewery in British Columbia. With $250,000 deposited as a guarantee of good faith, and a promise to spend $600,000 in the establishment of a brewery in Vancouver, the offer was looked upon as one which would give the Government a genuine opportunity to prove the sincerity of its claim that it sought to break a beer monopoly and at the same time force British Columbia brewers to produce beer that because of competition, must be up to a quality standard.

The Vancouver Province, which while friendly to the Government, has taken the lead in criticism of the present beer-purchasing policy, gave considerable publicity to the offer of the Associated Breweries of Alberta as evidence of the determination of the Government to break the beer combine but has had little to say about the withdrawal of the offer and the reasons which forced the withdrawal.

PARTY DIVIDED

In announcing that they had abandoned their plan to establish a brewery in British Columbia a representative of the Alberta Breweries was very frank in stating the reasons:

"This matter appears to have given rise to political complications that we had not contemplated and we do not care to be involved in them. We wanted this matter to be settled as a business proposition but found the cards were stacked against us from the first. The influence of the proprietors of breweries to-day operating in British Columbia was too strong for us."

Although brief, the announcement is thought to succinctly outline existing conditions. Government supporters, who were led to believe that the much talked of beer monopoly would be shattered, have been faced with evidence that the brewers of British Columbia hold the master hand in dealings with the Government. With the formation of the new Liquor Control Board, with H. B. Thomson as chairman, a clash in which the brewers' dictation would be broken down was anticipated by those Conservatives who have advocated purchases of beer from any source the board saw fit, independent of any representations of brewers in this province.

Mr. Thomson's talk of establishing a Government brewery is not received with much seriousness as it is considered very unlikely the Government would, if it legally could, go into the brewing business. Apart from that no other move has been announced. Lack of action is emphasized by the fact that Mr. Thomson has said that the withdrawal of the Associated Breweries did not mean the abandonment of the plan to bring in beer from outside as six other breweries were anxious to send their products here.

SINCERITY DOUBTED

This would indicate that the chairman could, at any time since he was appointed, have made purchases from other than B.C. brewers if a sincere effort to break from the grip of the brewers' combine had been intended. Should the matter be brought before the Legislature it is anticipated that it will likely be raised by members of the Conservative side in protest at the evident domination of the B.C. brewers in Government affairs as shown by recent events.

The influence of the brewers is shown in other ways than that which forced the withdrawal of the Associated Breweries. Their domination embraces the varieties of beer on sale in liquor stores and beer parlors throughout the province. That the brewers and not the Liquor Board have the main say in regard to beer parlors is indicated by the fact that the latter are permitted to sell only their specified brands. Their influence is also seen in unsuccessful outcome of recent negotiations for the importation of European beer. The European product, it was pointed out, could have been shipped to the warehouse at a price which would make it possible to retail it at a lower price than the British Columbia product. This contention would have forced the brewers to maintain the standard of their product. It was suggested that the price to the consumer be made a little higher so that the brewers would only turn to the imported product when that brewed locally fell below standard. It is understood, however, that the B.C. brewers were again successful in warding off the competition.

NORTH DAKOTA MOB LYNCHES YOUNG MAN*Charles Bannon, Who Confessed Slayings, Hanged at Town of Shafer

Shafer, N.D., Jan. 29.—Charles Bannon, twenty-two, confessed slayer of six members of the A. E. Hays family, was lynched by a mob here early today.

Overpowering a deputy sheriff, the mob broke into the Shafer jail, took Bannon to a bridge two miles east of the town and hanged him.

James P. Bannon, father of Charles, also held in connection with the Hays slayings, was not molested. The mob arrived at the jail about 1 a.m., and surrounded Deputy Sheriff Peter S. Hallan and tied him to a chair. Members of the crowd took the younger Bannon from his cell and spirited him away in an automobile.

Sheriff F. A. Thompson, aroused by the commotion, was seized and also tied up. The crowd indicated the elder Bannon would not be harmed and he was not taken from the jail.

Although the mob was intent only on getting Charles Bannon, the latter pleaded that his father should not be harmed. "Save my dad," he urged. He was told the elder Bannon "would be given a chance," the courts and would not be harmed by the crowd.

After Bannon had been hanged from the gallows, the crowd dispersed.

the railing of the bridge the mob dispersed. No shots were fired and, save for the sheriff and his deputy being tied up, no one else was bothered.

Sheriff Thompson, who lives two blocks from the jail, was alerted when he came to investigate the noise of the timber breaking down the doors.

HEARING SET FOR TO-MORROW

Young Bannon was brought to the McLeod County jail here several days ago from the Williams County jail at Williston, N.D., where he had been held for safe keeping since his arrest. He and his father were to have been arraigned here to-morrow on first degree murder charges for the Hays slayings.

Officials estimated ninety men were in the mob. All wore masks and some were armed. They gathered quietly at the jail, and then, using large timbers, battered down the front door of the building.

Confession by Charles Bannon early in December that he had slain Mr. and Mrs. Hays and their four children climaxed one of the most sensational crimes in North Dakota's history. Bannon had been employed on the Hays farm near Shafer, which is in northeastern North Dakota. Last February, he told authorities that after a quarrel, he had shot and killed first one and then another of the Hayses and buried the remains in a barn on the place.

HOGS WERE CLUE

He told friends and neighbors the Hayses had left the farm and had gone to live in Oregon. No suspicion attached to him until late in November, when he was arrested on a charge of selling property that did not belong to him—hogs from the Hays farm.

At his trial he was questioned repeatedly about the whereabouts of the Hayses. Checking in Oregon failed to locate them. Finally he told authorities he had helped bury a baby which he said Mrs. Hays had killed during a fit of insanity.

He led the officers to where the body was buried. Further questioning and search eventually led to all the bodies and a confession that he alone was responsible.

James P. Bannon, the father, has denied any connection with the killings.

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—Residents of a two-mile area in the eastern section of Ottawa were thrown into a panic late yesterday afternoon when explosions in sewers rocked the district and shot manhole covers high in the air.

A rumbling, thunder-like noise, accompanied by the popping of sewer covers, sent residents into the streets, fearing a repetition of the serious sewer explosions of May 29, 1929, when one woman was killed, another badly injured and three houses were destroyed by fire.

ROADWAY DAMAGED

The explosions yesterday opened a crack 200 feet long in the roadway of Nelson Street, shifted several houses from their foundations, shattered windows, damaged crockery and furniture and put street lighting out of commission for several hours.

Several persons were treated for nervous prostration, the most serious case being Miss Lillian Pettapiece, who "was seriously injured in the 1929 disturbance. Miss Pettapiece collapsed from shock.

Luckily, few people were near the manholes when they flew into the air. One boy who was skating down Somerset Street near a manhole was lifted high in the air and set down in a snowbank by the side of the road uninjured.

Several manhole covers were thrown high enough in the air to crash against power lines, and break them, leaving the district without lights in the darkness of the late afternoon.

THOMSON GETS REBUKE FROM FRUIT GROWERS

Criticized For Voicing Opinions on Sanford Evans Marketing Report

Government Official Should Not Have Offered Views, Says President

A stinging rebuke to H. B. Thomson, chairman of the Liquor Control Board, for his criticism of apple growers' marketing policies during his comment on the Sanford Evans report on Okanagan fruit problems is contained in an open letter to Premier Tolmie by R. H. Macdonald, president of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association. Mr. Thomson is criticized as a government official for entering into discussion on things that do not concern his department. The suggestion is also made that he acted on the expressed or implied permission of the government.

The letter follows:

"Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Premier, British Columbia, Victoria:

"Dear Dr. Tolmie,—It is very difficult for me to convey to you in moderate language the effect produced upon the minds of the directors and delegates of the B.C.F.G.A. in annual convention by the reading of the remarks of H. B. Thomson, chairman of the Liquor Commission, as printed in the press.

"Mr. Thomson may be eminently fitted for the position he holds, but that he is fitted by training and experience to pass upon the problems of the fruit growers of this valley is certainly open to question. That he is in a position to take the growers to task for their refusal to endorse the Sanford Evans report, or to term their action as 'apple politics,' is to be doubted.

"The growers of this valley cannot help but compare the investigation made in the Okanagan with that conducted by Dr. Tory in the Annapolis Valley. Dr. Tory, whose standing as a student of agricultural economics is international, recommended in the strongest possible terms the adoption of the principles suggested in the F. M. Black report.

"No man, our growers overlook the fact that Dr. Tory began his work on February 29, 1930, completing his report in September of the same year, while Mr. Evans, appointed in August, 1929, made no report on marketing until January 17, 1931, eighteen months later.

"Possibly Mr. Thomson felt that in his personal capacity he was called upon to defend Mr. Evans. This may have been his privilege, but when he proceeded to attack fruit growers, the matter becomes quite different. Directors and delegates are asking by what authority a man who is operating the closest monopoly created by law, a central selling agency in the strictest sense, undertakes to criticize their efforts to attend to their own affairs.

Why does he, an official of department of the government, meddle with affairs outside that department?

"I may say frankly that many of us feel that Mr. Thomson acted as he did with the expressed or implied permission of the government. This is something that one would be loath to believe, but the idea persists.

"In justice to the directors of the B.C.F.G.A. and the fruitgrowers as a whole, it seems to me very desirable that you place me in a position to assure them that the occurrence took place without the knowledge of your government."

"R. H. MACDONALD,
President, British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association."

Ladysmith

Ladysmith, Jan. 29.—The death occurred in Ladysmith General Hospital on Tuesday of Mrs. Catherine Cook, wife of Mr. Cook. The late was Cook was fifty-two years of age, and has resided in Ladysmith for many years. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her husband, two sons, Thomas and Donald, and one daughter, Mrs. J. Ryan, all of this city. The funeral will take place from the family residence on Roberts Street, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The death occurred at the family residence, Warren Street, of Norman O'Brien. A student at the Victoria school of Mr. and Mrs. G. Higgins Jr. The little girl was seven years of age, and leaves to mourn her loss, besides her sorrowing parents, two sisters, Ruth and Maggie. The funeral took place Tuesday at 3 o'clock.

A very enjoyable whist drive was held Monday evening in the Convent Hall, and the successful prize winners were as follows: Ladies, first, Mrs. L. E. Lowe; second, Mrs. L. Thomas; gentlemen, first, Father MacLellan; second, Mrs. T. Cook (substitute). After the games refreshments were served.

Lake Cowichan

Lake Cowichan, Jan. 29.—The Community Hall presented a bright and animated scene on Saturday night when Lake residents assembled for a social gathering devoted to cards and dancing. Fifteen tables of court whist were made up, and the games hugely enjoyed. After keen competition the prizes were presented to the winning ones as follows: Ladies' first, Mrs. W. Grosskleg; consolation, Mrs. J. Oraville; men's first prize, J. Hatter; consolation, D. Madill. After refreshments had been served by the ladies of the Community Hall committee, dancing was the next attraction, and lasted until 2 a.m. The four-piece orchestra was composed of local talent. The members of the Ladies' Bridge Club met at the lake home of Mrs. Fred Swanson on Tuesday afternoon. Refreshments were served at the tea hour. The winner of the highest score on that occasion was Mrs. Nilsen. Cecil McMurtrie came over from camp six, Nixon Creek, and spent the week-end here.

TWO INJURED AS CHURCH IS SWEEPED BY FIRE

Montreal, Jan. 29.—Fire destroyed the St. Denis Roman Catholic Church yesterday. The edifice was built thirty-two years ago at a cost of $800,000.

Under fire Chief Robert was burned under a fall of bricks and masonry and was removed unconscious. He was rushed to a hospital painfully injured. Another fireman was dazed unconscious by falling and sent to a hospital.

WHY PARENTS ARE ANNOYED

Survey Shows Children Irritate Elders in 2,124 Ways

Athens, Ga., Jan. 29.—There are 2,124 ways in which children can annoy their parents, declared Dr. Mandel Sherman, director of child research, Washington, in discussing "Education for Parenthood" at the Georgia State College here to-day.

In a survey made by thirty-two parents, who agreed to keep an account of the various ways in which their children annoyed them, disobedience received the highest percentage. Other annoyances listed were: Because children were too slow, too quick or alert, not quite neat enough or because they "popped up" too much.

Results of the survey showed, Dr.

Pekinese Dog Barks and Saves Woman's Life

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Ordinarily folks do not look to Pekinese dogs for hero roles.

Usually great danes or other large dogs come in for that sort of thing, but this was not the case yesterday when a woman who said she was "tired of living" jumped into Lake Michigan. Two Pekinese, walking along the beach, began to bark. A housewife a block away said the bark was too loud she called police.

Two officers pulled the woman to safety.

DRINK PROBLEM DISCUSSED BY PRESBYTERIAL

Home-made Wine and Liquor Candles Denounced; Deplores Logberries For Wine

Home-made wine, liquor in candles, and other ramifications of the drink problem were discussed at the annual meeting of the Victoria Presbyterian of the United Church W.M.S., yesterday afternoon, following the comprehensive report presented by Mrs. G.G. Henderson of Duncan.

Several members expressed their disapproval of the practice of making home-made wine, while another delegate found fault with the growers, very often church people, who grow logberries for the express purpose of selling it to the wineries.

SUPPLY REPORT

Mrs. J. S. Conibear reviewed the work of the supply department, the practical side of the Women's Auxiliary. During the year the department had received new goods to the value of $311.37, and cash amounting to $48.92. In all, twenty auxiliaries had sent gifts, and eight sent cash. Supplies had also been received from two Y.P. Auxiliaries, three circles and three mission bands. With the goods received, eleven mission fields and two hospitals had been assisted with goods, which were much appreciated. The total value of the sales shipped was $303.60.

Mrs. M. C. Wilkinson presented her report as press secretary, paying tribute to the generosity of the Tins and Colonies in giving space to notices and reports of the meetings.

GREETINGS TENDERED

During the afternoon a letter of greeting was received from Mrs. Dickson, branch president, Miss Clark, a worker at the Mission Hospital, and Mrs. Norman of Edmonton, former president of an Edmonton auxiliary, were cordially welcomed by Mrs. James Hood, the president.

Owing to illness, the Lady Smith Auxiliary delegates were unable to take the devotional period, and Mrs. R. W. Mayhew and Mrs. McKillop of the First United group, stepped into the breach. Miss Ella Hood sang a solo very sweetly, accompanied at the piano by Miss Edith Hood.

At 6:15 o'clock supper was served to the members and delegates. The long tables with their attractive decorations of greenery and daisies seated about 200 guests. Group discussion was held after supper, the secretary of the departments taking charge.

C.G.I.T. Mother And Daughter Banquet Friday

The Canadian Girls in Training of First United Church are sponsoring the annual "mother and daughter" banquet, which is being held on Friday evening at 6:15 o'clock at First United S.S. Hall.

A distinguished speaker in the person of Miss Winona Armitage of Ryerson United Church, will be the special guest. Miss Armitage is the director of eleven C.G.I.T. groups of that church, and being intensely interested in girls, her address promises to be both stimulating and entertaining.

Musical numbers, toasts, a sing-song and the presenting of the prize for the best decorated table will be added features.

A fitting climax to the evening's entertainment will be the presentation of the "Quest Ceremonial" by the C.G.I.T. department.

PRIMITIVE ART BEFORE DELUGE IS DISCUSSED

At the fortnightly meeting of L'Alliance Francaise held yesterday afternoon at 1085 Moss Street, with the president, Mrs. H. M. Archibald, presiding, an interesting discussion on the works of the greatest sculptors was held. Many of the members took part, and some fine pictures of statuary, including the earliest evidences of primitive art, were shown. Of special interest was one antedating the Deluge, showing that the Sumerians were the founders of the ancient civilization in Mesopotamia.

Several points of Madame Sander's address on "Rodin" were analysed. Madame Archibald dwelling upon the fact that the genius of Latin expression, more particularly in France, was almost invariably of the people, while in the Anglo-Saxon countries it was found that the aristocracy gave rise in most instances to the men and women of greatest talent.

The official lecturer of L'Alliance, M. Beaupre, will arrive from Paris in February, and will give his address in Victoria College on the evening of February 24. The subject, "The Royal Houses of France," with illustrations, should be of wide interest.

Madame Nothe will speak at the next fortnightly meeting of L'Alliance on February 11.

Knox W.M.S.—Knox Presbyterian Church W.M.S., held its monthly meeting Tuesday with a good attendance. The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Dempsey, president. Business in general was discussed, the roll call given and study period had an able reading by Mrs. J. B. Patterson, on "Ambassadors of Goodwill." Comment was made on the good work of C.G.I.T. and Mission Band. The meeting closed with prayer.

Society

Hon. R. H. Pooley and Mrs. Pooley were hosts at a dinner party last evening at their home on Esquimalt Road.

Mrs. C. A. Morris of Victoria returned home early in the week after a short visit to her home in Harbor, the guest of Mrs. A. J. Eaton.

The many friends of Mr. R. J. Robertson, Linden Avenue, will be pleased to hear he is improving steadily from his recent illness.

Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. F. G. Hart and family, who arrived recently from Halifax, will make their home shortly at 11 Cook Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cumming of London, England, who spent the weekend in the city, have left for Vancouver en route for England.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fairweather of North Battleford, Sask., are spending a few days at the guest of their sister, Mrs. E. A. Hill, 736 Courtney Street.

Mrs. Norman Payne of Victoria was the guest of honor when Mrs. C. E. Thomas, formerly of Victoria, entertained at her home in Vancouver Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. G. H. Gyles and Mrs. Cedric Gyles of Vancouver, who have been visiting Mrs. R. H. Rider, Island Road, left a few days ago for an extended holiday in California.

Mr. R. Dunbar, who returned to Esquimalt from Kamloops, where he was called by the sudden death of his father, Mr. Clyde H. Dunbar, well-known Kamloops barrister.

Mrs. Napier Henry has arrived from California to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Wolfenden, Esquimalt. She will be joined shortly by Mr. Henry, who is at present in Vancouver.

Mrs. S. J. Willis entertained at the tea hour this afternoon at her home on Fort Street, when her guests of honor were the members of the executive of the Women's Canadian Club.

Mrs. Max Inglis of Vancouver has returned to her home on the mainland after a short visit in Victoria as the guest of Colonel and Mrs. J. K. Cornwall, "The Oaks," Oak Bay Avenue.

On Tuesday evening Miss Jean Currie entertained at her home on Queen's Avenue with bridge, after which dainty refreshments were served. Prizes were won by Miss A. Carey and Miss D. Thomas. The invited guests were Mrs. D. Barrowman, E. Day, M. Linsparr, D. Thomas, A. Carey and J. Currie.

Miss Edna Mae Barr returned from Seattle yesterday to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Barr, 422 Menzies Street. Miss Barr has been taking a second soprano part in the Seattle Orpheon Society for the past few months, and reports a full house attending their concert, given Tuesday night in the large Plymouth Congregational church, where she was soloist. She has not yet decided if she will take further part with the society or remain in Victoria for study.

WOMAN CLAIMS WAR REPARATION

Asks $7,800 For Furniture Lost When Hesperian Sunk in 1915

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 29.—(By the Canadian Press).—The biggest definite claim placed before the War Reparation Commission at its sitting recently, was that of Mrs. Mary Brooks of Cohere River, amounting to $7,800. Compensation will be given the individual cases after the return of the members to Ottawa.

Mrs. Brooks lost personal effects and household goods by the sinking of the Ss. Hesperian, off the southwest coast of Ireland, September 4, 1915. The original claim was for $6,771, which was awarded by a Winnipeg valuator to $7,800. Two of her sons were in Canada and wrote home suggesting that their parents join them, which they did, instructing packers to ship their furniture and effects. The goods were insured, but they only received $1,500 from the insurance company for their loss.

The second case heard was that of Rev. John A. Beattie, formerly of Winnipeg, but now of Stony Mountain, who claimed $1,297 to cover expenses incurred in connection with the loss for the body of his wife, lost at sea with the sinking of the Ss. Lusitania, which is being held on the Lusitania, on claim for $6,771, which was awarded by a Winnipeg valuator to $7,800. Two of her sons were in Canada and wrote home suggesting that their parents join them, which they did, instructing packers to ship their furniture and effects. The goods were insured, but they only received $1,500 from the insurance company for their loss.

Another case was that of Mrs. Mary A. Matthews, of 317 Aubrey Street, Winnipeg, in lieu of an allowance made by her son, Robert, who was crossing the Atlantic for the purpose of enlisting when the Ss. Lusitania was submerged. From 1911 until his departure in 1914, he had contributed to her support, she then being a widow. She explained to the court that her son was a married man and that his widow had received reparation.

Condition Of Princess Is Less Satisfactory

London, Jan. 29.—Physicians to the Princess Beatrice, the King's aunt, issued a bulletin this afternoon saying that the patient's condition was "less satisfactory."

The seventy-four-year-old Princess contracted acute bronchitis early this month and last week, in a fall at her home in Kensington Palace, she broke her arm in two places.

Her daughter, Queen Victoria of Spain, is hurrying to her side.

The physicians' bulletin read: "On account of some attacks of heart weakness, though these were of temporary duration only, the condition of the Princess Beatrice must be regarded as less satisfactory."

Lodge to Meet—Lodge Princess Alexandra No. 18, D.O.E., will hold a short meeting to-night, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. A card party will follow, to which everybody is welcomed.

MOLYNEUX TO GIVE FASHION TALK ON RADIO

Irish Head of Paris Salon in First International Fashion Broadcast Feb. 6

Paris fashion showings will be described to Canadian and U.S. women in an international broadcast next Friday, February 6, at almost the same time couturiers are presenting their spring models in the style centre of the world. On February 6 at 7 p.m. Victoria time, Captain Edward Molyneux will broadcast over WABC and other stations of the Columbia network direct from his Paris salon, giving a first-hand account of what the well-dressed woman will wear for spring.

Although still a young man, Captain Molyneux is an outstanding figure in the world of fashion. Early in his youth he displayed his genius by designing attire for dolls. Before he was twenty he was chief assistant to Lady Duff-Gordon in her Parisian house of fashion, and after she had opened his own studies on the Rue Royale.

Mr. W. H. Burr of Toronto, general traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, arrived here yesterday. He is accompanied by Mrs. Burr, Mr. P. A. Dunne, superintendent of the company at Vancouver, accompanied Mr. Burr on his trip to Victoria. They are guests at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Roy Pendray of Calgary, who has been visiting in Victoria as the guest of his mother, Mrs. W. J. Pendray, Belleville Street, left at the beginning of the week for his home in Alberta. Mr. Pendray, who has also been the guest of Mrs. W. J. Pendray, is remaining in Victoria for a longer visit and at present is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Carl Pendray, Beach Drive.

Mrs. Crow Baker and her niece, Miss Jean Ross, with the Misses Kate, Lena and Muriel Galt, left this afternoon for Seattle, en route for New York, whence they will sail next Tuesday on the Empress of France for a cruise in the Mediterranean, afterwards spending some time in France and England. They will be joined in New York by Mrs. Arthur Springett of Montreal, who will accompany them on their trip.

Miss Edna Mae Barr returned from Seattle yesterday to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Barr, 422 Menzies Street. Miss Barr has been taking a second soprano part in the Seattle Orpheon Society for the past few months, and reports a full house attending their concert, given Tuesday night in the large Plymouth Congregational church, where she was soloist. She has not yet decided if she will take further part with the society or remain in Victoria for study.

Characteristic of the programme, Guy Lombardo's orchestra will play music suggestive of Paris boulevards and cafes and complete the half-hour programme which will be the first of a series of Peter Pan Fanciests sponsored by Henry Glass & Co.

Captain Molyneux's talk will not be carried by KVI, Tacoma, which is the local station of the Columbia chain for Victoria listeners. But the programme will be heard over the following western stations, some of which might be picked up locally:

KOIN Portland, KOL Seattle, KPRC San Francisco, KBL Los Angeles, KPXY Spokane, KGYL Salt Lake, and KID Denver. KPRC, with a wave length of 4,470 metres, is the most likely station. It can be picked up on the average dial around 80, or four-fifths of the way up the dial.

WORLD W.C.T.U. MEETS IN JUNE

To Be Held in Toronto; First Time in Canada Since 1897

Canadian Press
Toronto, Ont., Jan. 29.—Interest of members of Christian Temperance Union in Canada to-day is centred in the coming World's Conference of the W.C.T.U., which is to be held on June 3 until June 10, at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, and which promises to draw thousands of members of this union from all over the world.

This will be the fourteenth World's W.C.T.U. convention, the second to be held in Canada, the first having taken place in 1907, in Toronto, with Frances E. Willard, the founder of the organization, presiding. This year marks four decades since the first world convention held in Boston, Massachusetts. Ontario White Ribboners will pay the highest possible tribute of appreciation at the convention to the "work and memory of the late Dominion president, Mrs. Gordon Wright, who died last June.

Mrs. T. H. Johns, who is singing one of the principal roles in the opera "Boccaccio," which is to be presented by the Victoria Operatic Society at the Royal Victoria Theatre on February 6 and 7.

ANTHROPOLOGIST TO ADDRESS CLUB

Dr. Erna Gunther Spier to Speak to Women's Canadian Club Tuesday

Dr. Erna Gunther Spier, instructor in anthropology and assistant director of the Museum of the University of Washington, Seattle, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club to be held at the Empress Hotel next Tuesday afternoon, beginning at 8:45 o'clock. Dr. Gunther Spier, who is the author of various articles on anthropology, secured her B.A. at Barnard College in 1914, her M.A. eleven years later at Columbia University, and from the same university in 1926 her Ph.D. An authority on the West Coast Indians, she has a special interest in British Columbia, whose aborigines she has studied in quest of information concerning their customs, religion and migrations, as well as their tribal traditions.

Mrs. Gurney will be the soloist at this meeting.

Musical Recital—A successful recital was given by some of Mrs. Ruby Moore's pupils on Saturday afternoon. The violin class, started at Glenora School, Sanich, less than four months ago, gave an interesting demonstration of the work covered, and acquitted themselves very well. Those taking part were as follows: Piano—Marjorie Murray, Olive Kirby, Jan Llewellyn, Audrey Mills, Vera Larson, Edna Lake, Ruth and Faith Goodwin, Marion Jull, Betty Carter, Eileen Steele and Albert Tilley; violin—Jan Llewellyn, Audrey Mills, Margaret Hemberger, Jessie Bell, Albert Tilley and Jack Moore; class, Estelle Cobley, Grace Peters, J. Drake and P. Partridge. Victor Moore, a pupil of W. Gurney, assisted with songs.

Your Headaches

Your headaches may be caused by your eyes. Eighty per cent of all headaches come from eyestrain (fatigue). Medical or other treatment is useless in these cases. Optical assistance by means of glasses or orthoptic training by the Optometrist is the only remedy. We guarantee relief from eyestrain headaches.

FAMOUS 'EROICA' SYMPHONY TO BE ON PROGRAMME

Noble Work For Seattle Orchestra's Recital Feb. 4; Mme. Eva Baird Soloist

The Seattle Symphony Orchestra in selecting the Beethoven Symphony No. 3, known as the "Eroica," for its recital here February 4, is following the best traditions of programme making. This noble work of Beethoven's is one of his nine masterpieces and has four movements, viz. The Allegro con brio, the Marche funebre (the Funeral March dedicated to Napoleon Bonaparte), the Scherzo, and the Finale.

Just as the symphony is the highest form of musical expression, so did the symphonies of Beethoven become the very highest form of the symphony itself, and reached in Beethoven's its greatest climax.

In addition to the "Eroica," the programme will contain, among other numbers, the introduction to Act III from Lohengrin with Eva Baird, dramatic soprano, singing "Eisa's Dream" with orchestral accompaniment.

Mail orders may be sent to the Royal Victoria Theatre for the afternoon concert at 8:30 o'clock and evening one at 8:30 o'clock on Wednesday, February 4.

Come Back Again! James Petrie sang "The Battle of Stirling" and "Moray's Fairy Glen," which were much appreciated. Mrs. Discombe also received much applause for her rendering of "There's Nae Luck About the House" and "Cam' Ye by Athol." Mrs. Patterson was at her best in the rendering of "My Ain Wee Home" and "My Bonnie Lies over the Water." These were sung with feeling and were much appreciated by the audience. The tenor soloist, George Gray, sang "The Lass o' Ballochmyle" and "Afton Water," which were sung and received a good applause. James Walker recited "Preparing for Company" and "A Night in Burns," which were warmly applauded.

Knox Church Scotch Concert Much Enjoyed

The Scotch concert held at Knox Presbyterian Church was thoroughly enjoyed by all those who attended. Despite the inclement weather, the church was full to capacity. The programme was exceptionally good and was received with great appreciation by the audience.

Donald Cameron opened the concert with bagpipe selections, after which a trio, consisting of Mrs. J. S. Patterson, Mrs. Allan, and Miss Peggy McPhail, sang "Ye Banks and Braes," "Turn Ye Tae Me" and "Will Ye No Singsangie?"

Progress of a Writer.—The St. Ann's association of former pupils at its recent meeting heard an interesting address by Mrs. Hermia Harris Fraser on "Steps in the Progress of a Writer." An impromptu programme was given by some of the present pupils of St. Ann's.

Catholic Social.—The Junior Catholic Women's League will join with the St. Louis College Welfare Association in holding a social in the K. of C. Hall on Thursday evening, February 5, for funds for the college. Bridge and 500 will be played in the card room. There will be dancing in the main hall to the music of Len Acres' orchestra.

Paris, Jan. 29.—Gay stripes and splashing prints, designed in zig zag lines, were shown by a prominent Parisian dressmaker last night as the latest word in spring togs.

Even monotone dresses of apparent simplicity revealed triangular or square pieces of the most intricate design, while others were frankly mystifying with ruffles winding from hip to hem in striking drapes and graduated patterns.

Black and dark blue chiffon or crepe afternoon frocks featured cream puff sleeves made of myriad rows of valenciennes lace of dark shadow lace sleeves under waist-length capes. The simplest day-time models had standing, flat, or rib collar, of white pique or bright silk Scottish plaids, while several models displayed plaid silk underskirts showing several inches below the hem.

Even sports models, featuring green, blue beige and red plaids and stripes combined with plain colors, were exhibited with complicated vests and trouser blouses. The evening gowns used several materials and colors in one model.

While cotton-lace combined with organdy, velvet leaves and flowers appliqued on net rows of narrow lace stitched on voile, and black stitching on light crepe, were among the newest evening notes. Brilliant large flowered chiffons designed in overlapping drapes and tiers were a favorite among the exhibits.

The jewels displayed with the gowns were as complicated as the dresses. Brilliant, colored with crystals, corals, and jade were designed in three-tiered necklaces and bracelets generally contrasting in color with the gown.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

Many hostesses like to serve warm, home-made rolls for luncheon or supper. If not wanted for company, the family will be sure to appreciate them and ask for more.

The first rule, baked in the popular "clover leaf" form, is particularly good. Three small balls of dough are baked in each muffin ring to make the "clover leaves."

CLOVER LEAF BALLS

One cup rice potato, 2 compressed yeast cakes, 1 cup water in which potatoes were soaked, 3 cups milk, 1/2 cup lard, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 7 1/2 cups flour. Scald milk and add lard. Cool to lukewarm temperature. Cool 1/2 cup water in which potatoes were soaked to lukewarm temperature and add yeast cakes. When cakes are dissolved, add to milk with potatoes, sugar, salt and 1/2 cups flour. Beat thoroughly, cover and let stand in a warm place for one hour. Add remaining flour and knead on a lightly floured board for 10 minutes. Return to mixing bowl and let stand two hours. The dough should double in bulk. Shape into rolls and let rise one hour. Bake thirty minutes in a moderately hot oven.

The large amount of yeast used in this recipe makes it possible to shorten the length of time required for the dough to rise.

Dinner.—Stewed chicken with noodles, glazed sweet potatoes, cauliflower in cream sauce, asparagus salad, peppermint candy ice cream, chocolate "brownies," milk coffee.

DAILY MENU

Breakfast.—Grapefruit, cereal, cream, cinnamon rolls, milk, coffee. Luncheon.—Mock sausages, creamed celery, new onions, rye bread, coconut cookies, milk, tea.

SWEET ROLLS

One yeast cake, 1/2 cup lukewarm water, 1 cup milk, 1 cup flour, 1-3 cup sugar, 1/2 cup lard, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 egg-yolks, 4 tablespoons creamed butter, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons cinnamon.

Scald milk and cool to lukewarm temperature. Dissolve yeast cake in lukewarm water and add to milk. Add flour and beat well. Cover and let rise for one hour. Add sugar, salt, lard, egg-yolks and enough flour to make a stiff dough. Knead on a lightly floured board for fifteen minutes. Return to mixing bowl, and let rise for one hour. Turn out onto a floured board and pat and roll into a rectangular sheet about 1/2 inch thick and twice as wide as it is long. Spread with creamed butter, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon mixed and roll up like a jelly roll. Cut in slices about an inch thick and put into a buttered pan. Let rise about an hour in a warm place, until double in bulk, and bake twenty minutes in a hot oven.

Either of the rolls can be used for ice-box rolls. After the dough has been allowed to rise for the second time it is kneaded down, brushed with melted butter and placed in the refrigerator until wanted for baking. When ready to use remove from bowl, knead and shape. Let rise in a warm place until double in bulk and bake as usual.

Hand Care

In these days when hands chafe quickly, keep a bottle of hand lotion above the kitchen sink as well as on your bathroom shelf. It should be used every time you dry your hands.

YOUR CHILDREN

Will a new necktie make Tommy stop teasing the cat, or a new hair ribbon make Myrtle practice any better? Perhaps they might.

In order to get on the safe ground of common sense, however, it is necessary to say that in order to keep Tommy a good boy, and Myrtle a dutiful girl, we cannot fill up the bureau drawer with expensive surprises. Even if it were possible the novelty would soon wear off.

But there is a psychology about clothes and neatness that affects behavior. It is the same psychology that keeps up a man's self respect if his suit is mended and pressed, no matter how old it is, the urge that lies behind the line of stockings and gloves in a woman's bathroom—the desire to appear well, not only in the eyes of her friends, but to know that she is well turned out herself.

A PERPLEXED MOTHER

Some time ago a certain mother, distressed about her boy's misbehavior, came to me with her problem. When I saw the youngster himself later, I jumped to a conclusion immediately, for although his mother said he was as neat as wax, the child might have come from the gutter as far as his appearance went, and he probably had. If his clothes were in a condition that matched the gutter, the law of attraction would carry him there.

His home was the medium-type American home where there was little extra money but plenty of water and soap.

His mother insisted that she tried to keep the boy clean, but couldn't. I knew all about that problem, too. Nobody expects boys to look like collar ads. They do get dirty and tumbled and all that. Who would want it otherwise?

But this boy was very dirty, very tumbled, and very ragged. He had lost his self respect, it was plain. I told her as tactfully as I could that she might try sending him to school in his Sunday best for a day or two until his other clothes were cleaned up and mended.

A SCHEDULE OF CLEANLINESS

"Make him bath every morning before school," I suggested. "Be sure he has a clean handkerchief, that his stockings are darned, his shoe laces tied, and his buttons are off his shirt, and he should be fixed up for

Stomach Pains, Gas, Made Life a Torment. All Gone Now

Years of Suffering Ended by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

"After a siege of intestinal grippe a few years ago, I suffered the awfullest torment from indigestion and Constipation. There is a reason. This unique discovery of a brilliant Canadian doctor for the first time combines 6 of the finest herbal tonics with a special secret extract of apples, oranges, prunes and figs—Nature's own remedies to make and keep you well. All concentrated into one small easy-to-take tablet. No habit-forming drugs.

"Stop being headachy, bilious, constipated, dizzy or nervous. Get 'Fruit-a-tives' from drugstore to-day. New health and vigor quick. Results guaranteed, or your money promptly refunded.

(Adv.)

Further wear, but observe if a few days of wearing his good clothes does not affect his conduct favorably. He will have something to live up to and perhaps he will surprise you."

Checking up later I found considerable improvement.

The advice was not new. I had given it with gratifying results in other cases.

We should start very early to train children to neatness, cleanliness and the right kind of pride in dress and personal appearance. Boys and some girls go through a certain stage of carelessness but there is a difference. They will "come back" to early training.

If any mother feels futile and discouraged by the continual strain of keeping her family in order it may comfort her to know that this very impetus of good appearance is one of the most powerful forces in life. Her work is anything but vain. But I should give the children their share in the responsibility—that is, half of it. Be sure to start them on the right road very early, until habit becomes character. Good behavior does not always dwell in the camp of the well-dressed, but exceptions never weaken a truth.

Toronto, Jan. 29.—Four fires, believed to be of incendiary origin, yesterday evening gave Toronto firemen a merry battle, resulted in serious injuries to one of the fire fighters and set detectives on a search for a "firebug." ## INDIGESTION NEARLY DROVE HIM WILD

until TANLAC came to his rescue

What a train of misery follows constant indigestion. The poor, weak stomach cannot digest food properly. Gas causes cramps and bloating; the pressure of gas distends the walls of the stomach and presses against the heart, causing fluttering and excessive nervousness. Because food is not digested, the body is not nourished and there is a steady loss in weight and strength.

As Mr. Henry Sholer, 175 Edinburgh Street, Toronto, Ont., writes, "Often I was so weak and miserable that I had to stop work before quitting time. But good old Tanlac came to my rescue when heartburn, palpitation, headaches and nervousness almost set me wild. Tanlac seemed to build me up all over again and now I have not a complaint in the world. I would not swap Tanlac for all other medicines put together."

You'll agree with Mr. Sholer and 20,000 others who have endorsed Tanlac after giving it a trial. Get a bottle at your drugstore to-day. More than 55,000,000 bottles sold.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Spurning breakfast is a bad habit that grows upon one. Nervous children who have too little sleep; children who sleep in poorly ventilated rooms and get up feeling stuffy and hoarse with dazed brown tastes in their mouths (increased perhaps by mouth breathing); children who have to hurry in order to get to school on time, these are the ones to whom breakfast looks odious.

Breakfasts may be monotonous in content and while it is well to accustom the child to eat the foods that are good for him, despite some lack of variety, we have to make some concessions to the child's taste. Different varieties of fruit and cereal, toast made of various kinds of bread—all these tempt by their novelty and once the habit of eating is crystallized, what the child eats becomes less and less moment. In fact, like most of us, he will come to eat the same breakfast day after day, with no desire for change.

Try an early bed and early to rise routine for the young man of six who refuses breakfast. Get the child to bed by 8 o'clock at the latest and up by 7. Then while he is dressing offer a tiny glass of the juice of a sweet orange. When he comes to the table give a small serving of home-cooked cereal, attractive to eye and taste, a slice of buttered toast made of raisin or whole wheat or granary bread, and a cup of warm or cold milk as the child prefers. The toast may be cut into fourths and seem less than one unwieldy, whole slice. Gradually increase the quantities of the various foods as the child's natural appetite for them improves.

Important Golf Competitions Scheduled Here This Summer

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Don Moe Given Splendid Chance to Succeed Bobby Jones

Portland Youth Rated One of Best Three Amateurs in U.S.

Maurice McCarthy and Charles Seaver Most Dangerous Rivals

European Swimmers Making Serious Challenge for World Supremacy

ONE interesting sidelight on the retirement of Bobby Jones from competitive golf is that a youngster from the Pacific Northwest is considered an excellent chance of succeeding Jones as the leading amateur golfer in the United States and possibly the world. This young star is Don Moe of Portland, who last year gained distinction by being chosen as a member of the United States Walker Cup team that successfully defended its honors against the British. Moe, who is only a kid, has already been selected as one of the outstanding of the younger crop in the United States and is given a fifty-fifty chance to win the next U.S. amateur championship. Moe is well-known to Victoria golfers, having played here on a number of occasions.

In picking a successor to Jones critics have named Moe, Maurice J. McCarthy Jr., and Charles Seaver. Los Angeles youth, an outstanding candidate, has been named Moe as the cream of the kids. If Moe can conquer his tendency to nervous collapse, he is likely to surpass McCarthy and Seaver. Right now he will score better as a medal player than McCarthy, who probably will never threaten in medal play for the simple reason that he has not learned to play never learn, to sink his teeth into a medal tournament and hang on.

Moe is a better shotmaker than McCarthy and superior to Seaver. He is as good as Gene Homans, last year's runner-up to Bobby Jones, who is a really fine machine, but lacks the strength of some of his rivals, and he has a much better physical equipment than Homans.

McCarthy will no doubt prove a dangerous rival to them all. He is a player much like Jones in temperament, that is in the sense of the championship era. He hasn't Jones' shot, but who has? He does have Jones' manner of playing right into the other fellow's game. McCarthy is a better golfer to-day than Jess Sweetser, who beat him in last year's championship. He has a sound game, if not a brilliant one, and plays best when there is most at stake.

Seaver is a youngster who honestly believes he can be the best of them. He lost to Gene Homans in the semi-finals at Merion last year, allowing the former to win after he had him five down at one stroke. Seaver has three other U.S. titles, including George Vogt, Roland Mackenzie, Jimmy Johnston and Dr. O. F. Willing.

Recently the European Swimming League passed upon the new records claimed for Europe, which included six for men and eight for women. This is quite an impressive indication of progress considering that only individual standards for the classic tests are recognized by the league and that Arne Borg of Sweden hung up striking marks for the middle distance free-style events before forsaking the amateur's career.

Of special interest is the fact that only two swimming records set by men stood out as the fastest performances achieved in any country during one year, evidence that foreignness is not an encumbrance on a field in which competitors from the United States have long held a monopoly.

The outstanding records approved follow: Stephen Barany of Hungary thrashed 100 metre freestyle in 58 3-5 sec. in a 25 metre pool, while George Kojac placed to his credit the next best time when he won the U.S. outdoor championship in 1:03 1-5 sec.

John Taria of France covered 200 metres, or 218.74 yards, in 2 min. 14 2-5 sec. in a fifty-metre bath, equal to about 2 min. 10 2-5 sec. for 220 yards, a twenty-five-yard tank, figures not touched anywhere else. It is worthy of note that Johnnie Weismuller holds the universal record for the furlong at 2 min. 9 sec.

Taria also succeeded in shattering Borg's standard for 800 metres by returning 10:19 3-5 in a fifty-metre tank, an exploit which shaded the world's mark then listed, though Clarence Crabbe has lowered it to 10:15 3-5 since.

Louis van Parys of Belgium wiped out a European and international breast stroke record, which had defied all attacks for several years, that of 7:40 for 500 metres, held by Erich Mademacher of Germany. Van Parys brought it down to 7:37 4-5 in a twenty-five-metre plunge.

Lastly a French schoolboy, Albert Faye, lowered the back stroke figures for 400 metres, or 437.44 yards, to 5:51 2-5, coming very close to George Fayer's bracketed universal mark of 5:52 3-5 for 440 yards, which was broken by Kojac recently.

Maria Braun of Holland is the only medalist with bettering free-style records for women, but it deserves mention that three other fair stars—Joyce Cooper of Great Britain and Yvonne Godard and Solita Salgado of France—also clipped former standards, though failing to equal the Dutch girl's feats. Braun, in twenty-five-metre pools, Mrs. Braun reduced the figures for 100 metres to 1:11 4-5, 200 metres to 2:42 4-5, 300 metres to 4:17 2-5, 400 metres to 5:46 and 500 metres to 7:18.

The Victoria, Colwood and Uplands clubs have arranged inter-club matches with Vancouver and Seattle clubs, while all the local clubs will meet several times in inter-club matches for various trophies.

JACK PURCELL WILL PLAY IN GREAT BRITAIN

Canadian Badminton Champ Will Seek British Title in Tourney at Wimbledon

Winner Recognized as World Champ; Purcell Won Over Touring British Stars

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—Carrying Canadian hopes for badminton supremacy, Jack Purcell, of Toronto, Dominion champion, will leave about February 10 to take part in the English badminton championships at Wimbledon. Official representative of the Canadian Badminton Association, Purcell will repay the recent visit of English badminton players, at the same time attempting to capture the all-English championship, regarded as the world title.

During the recent tour of the Dominion, Sir George Thomas, leader of the English team, stated in his opinion Purcell, who won the national championship in 1929 and 1930, would have an excellent chance of bringing the title to Canada. Sir George also invited the Canadian youth to be his partner in the men's doubles event of the all-English tourney.

In the exhibition matches against the touring English team last December, Purcell defeated D. C. Hume, all-English champion, in straight games, 15-3, 15-10. Later he defeated J. F. Devin, five times holder of the English championship, again winning in straight games, 15-4 and 15-15. Purcell also defeated R. F. C. Nichols, 15-9, 15-9, and R. M. White, 15-12, 15-7.

Midget Golf Fans Want Bobby Jones To Tell Them How

Famous Golfer Deluged With Letters Asking For Instructions Over Radio Seek Best Way to Put Through Barrels, Chip Over Ponds and Approach

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 29.—Bobby Jones has been deluged with letters from midget golf addicts, asking that he include in his weekly golf talks advice on how to putt through barrels, chip over gold fish ponds and approach through crooked hollow logs.

It is all very well, says one letter from a Pacific Coast fan, "to tell me how to putt through barrels, chip over gold fish ponds and approach through crooked hollow logs."

Whether Bobby has ever played on the midget courses is not known, and some of those who have written him indicate their belief he would not be so successful in the pint size courses as on the four and five-mile affairs, where he has won so many championships.

Qualifying round, eighteen holes, at Uplands.

April 12.—Uplands "B" class championship; qualifying round, eighteen holes; handicap, eighteen and over.

April 19.—Uplands "B" class championship; first and second rounds.

April 26.—Uplands "B" class championship; semi-finals and final rounds.

May 3.—Uplands "A" class championship; qualifying round, thirty-six holes.

May 10.—Uplands "A" class championship; first and second rounds.

May 17.—Uplands "A" class championship; third and semi-final rounds.

CHICAGO WILLING TO STAGE BIG BOUT BUT WANTS ALL PROCEEDS

New York, Jan. 29.—Chicago is all in favor of holding next summer's heavyweight championship battle between Max Schmeling and Young Billy Robinson, according to George Getz, a member of the Illinois Athletic Commission, but not if the milk fund or any New York charity is to share in the proceeds. Addressing his remarks to an informal gathering that included Schmeling, his manager, Joe Jacobs, and Bill Carey, president of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, Getz added this comment to the fight fans yesterday, explaining that "charity begins at home and Chicago needs all the charity it can get." The Milk Fund has been carrying on the negotiations for the fight.

THOMPSON IS WINNER OVER EDDIE GROSS

Yakima Heavyweight Defeats Winner of Recent Pacific Northwest Tournament

Thompson Takes Last Four Rounds by Big Margin; Fine Bout at Seattle

Seattle, Jan. 29.—"Cyclone" Thompson, Yakima, is rated as the best heavyweight boxer in the Pacific northwest, to-day, having defeated Eddie Gross, Seattle, in a six-round main event bout there yesterday evening. Gross won the Pacific northwest heavyweight tournament a month ago.

Thompson won the last four rounds by a big margin, after breaking even in the first two. Thompson landed a great number of wild swings to Gross's head and several hard punches to his stomach.

Gross connected with but few solid blows. He changed his style in the last two rounds in an endeavor to land a haymaker and knock the Yakima heavyweight battler out, but Thompson had the edge just the same.

The two boxers fought to a draw two weeks ago.

A KEEN BOUT Paul Delaney, Spokane middleweight, had a slight edge over Kenny Overlin, U.S.S. Tennessee, to get the nod in the six-round semi-final. Both boys threw heavy punches, with Delaney landing the most telling blows.

Tommy Jeffers, Seattle welterweight, drew with Mike Griffo, Seattle; Cecil Geyser, Seattle welterweight, defeated Elgin Moore, Sultan, Wash. Tim Derry, St. Paul heavyweight, lost to George Rickard, Tacoma, and Joe Roberson, Seattle, junior welterweight, drew with Denny McCallister, Chicago. The last four bouts were four rounds.

RETAIN THIRD PLACE Yorkton, Sask., Jan. 29.—Yorkton Terrier, yesterday evening hung onto third place in Big Six senior hockey by defeating Regina 2 to 0, in a bitterly fought contest. Patrick and G. Heard were the scorers.

Larger Hockey Cages Fail To Produce Goals

Toronto, Jan. 29.—Enlarged goal cages, advocated by many students of hockey as a remedy for the prevalence of low scoring, were given a test here yesterday evening in the mercantile league, affiliated branch of the Ontario Hockey Association.

Those critics who declared the wider net would not increase scoring left the rink smiling. A double-header was played and the best marksmen of the four teams could do was bag a total of five goals.

The goal cages were enlarged in width from the standard six-foot measurement to seven feet six inches. The enlargement was announced as purely experimental. The experiment will proceed for a time.

STANDARDS CINCH CITY HOOP TITLE

Laundry Team Defeats Keating Women 28 to 14 to Capture Senior "C" Title

Ina and Verna Foubister Star; Fountain Service Win Over Hanbury's 52 to 24

Harry Savage's Standard Steam Laundry basketball quintet clinched the championship of the Victoria and District Basketball League yesterday evening by taking the fast-stepping Keating five into camp by a score of 28 to 14. In the other game played at the Standard Service, closed their league schedule with a 53-to-24 win over Hanbury's.

The women's game was fast throughout, with enough heavy checking to make things interesting. The Standards

"REP" RUGGERS HOLD FINAL WORKOUT FOR MATCH WITH VARSITY

With the last work-out billed at the Armories for 7:30 o'clock this evening, Victoria's McKechnie Cup rugby team appears in good shape for its encounter with Varsity on the mainland, Saturday. No changes have been made to the team announced early in the week and the boys will cross to Vancouver on the C.N.R. steamer Saturday morning for the trip.

In their fixture against the students on January 3, the Capitals' backfield showed up better than it had in previous matches. Jack Bryden will hold down his chosen post as fullback and Stagg, Turgoose, Reg. Weisman and Pease will form a fast and hard tackling three-quarter line. Campbell, Forbes, Larry Henderson and Henry Cockin will play five-eighths and halfback, respectively.

In the pick Bernard, Rowland, Warnock and Goad are counted on to play their usual fast follow-up games, while Wharton is expected to uphold his laurels as a hook. Ian Douglas and Gerry Fanning have plenty of speed, weight and stamina to add to the combination. U.B.C. boys, with the exception of "Tiny" Ledingham, are thought to be lighter than the local bunch. Bruce Forbes, steady, hard-working Scottish forward, will go over to the Mainland as a reserve.

On paper the team looks to be strong enough to stop the students even though it will be without the services of Art Fell and Bill Roberts, two men who showed up well early in the series.

SAANICH WIN OVER GARRISON TO TAKE LEAD

Suburbanites Surprise By 5 to 1 Victory in Wednesday Soccer Match

Saanich Hold One-point Lead in Pendray Cup Series; Other Match Postponed

In the only Wednesday football match played yesterday afternoon Saanich United sprang an upset by scoring a 5-to-1 victory over the powerful Garrison Club at Beacon Hill. The victory puts Saanich out in front in the series for the Pendray Cup with a one-point margin over the Navy. Owing to the poor ground conditions at the Royal Athletic Park the Hudson's Bay-Navy match was called off.

Taking the offensive from the opening kick-off Saanich rushed the Garrison off their feet. Within a few minutes Burns, Brown and Ewing had tested Wingers with fast drives. The match was only ten minutes old when Saanich went into the lead on a splendid goal by Burns. Shortly after Brown made it 2 to 0 when he scored from close quarters. Garrison rallied and on a desperate attack Burgess, at centre forward, beat "Tooby" in the Saanich net with a wicked shot.

SCORE TWO MORE Still fighting hard Saanich again took up the attack and Speller put them two goals ahead again with a shot to the corner. Just before half time Saanich practically clinched the match when Burns went through for his second goal.

The Garrison changed their team around at the start of the second half. Burgess going to full-back and Spiers to centre-forward, but still the Tommies found the Saanich team too strong. While Chapman handled Burns' free kick Saanich were awarded a penalty. Burns, who took the kick, booted the ball into Winger's arms and the goals cleared. Shortly after Brown scored but was ruled off-side. The Garrison tried hard to score additional goals but found the Saanich back division sound.

The final goal of the match was seen when Brown's long shot got away from Winger and rolled into the goal. Saanich were still on the offensive at the final whistle.

The teams were as follows: Saanich United—Tooby, Cann, Blasco, Stoner, Moir, A. Speller, M. Speller, Ewing, Burns, Wyatt and Brown. Garrison—Winger, Scanlon, Linsley, Spiers, Lea, Chapman, McAllister, Edwards, Burgess, Richard and Bradshaw.

New York and Boston Hockey Teams Resume Feud To-night

Rangers, Although In Slump, Hope To Break Long "Jinx"

Lester Patrick's Club Out to Score First Victory Over Bruins in Two Years at Madison Square Garden; Rangers Have Gone Through Six Games Without a Victory; Boston Setting Fast Pace; Canadiens Meet Philadelphia and Toronto Oppose Ottawa.

Toronto, Jan. 29.—Although there are three games on the National Hockey League schedule for to-night, the fifth clash of the year between the New York Rangers and Boston Bruins at Madison Square Garden casts a shadow over the meetings of the Canadian division leaders and the last place teams of the two divisions.

Many fans think the time is about ripe for the Rangers to beat Boston, a feat which has not been accomplished in more than two years. At present New York appears to be in a slump, having gone through six games without a victory, while Boston, despite their tie with Philadelphia Tuesday, is riding the crest of the wave.

TOURING FIVE BEAT DUNCAN

McCormick Lumber Company Hoopsters Win 23 to 21; Victoria Orioles Victors

Duncan, Jan. 29.—In the exhibition basketball game played here yesterday evening the touring McCormick Lumber Company's basketball team defeated Duncan 23 to 21 after a keen struggle. After leading 14 to 5 at half-time, the visitors managed to hold off the second half rally of the home players.

In the preliminary game the Victoria Orioles came through with a 25 to 24 win over the Duncan women. The Victoria girls scored the winning points in the dying moments of the game.

The teams and individual scores follow:
McCormick Lumber—Carmine 9, Hobson 11, Perry 2, Hall, Ivis 1, and Harris.
Duncan—McDonald 4, L. Talbot, Wylie 6, H. Talbot 8, J. Dirom 2, A. Dirom 1, and Evans.

Pitt's Offence Hard to Combat

BY SOL METZGER

In football, a game better understood by the public than basketball, certain types of forward passes are planned which bring two eligible men on the line of the throw, one nearer the passer than the other. The result is that most any pass thrown on line is caught. Pitt's basketball offence sometimes has a like percentage against error in its favor.

Take this set play as an example. Guard 5 has the ball. He whips it for the basket without any preliminary move. Two men are there, one from either side, to receive it and try a close shot. The plan of the play brings this about. Here is how it is worked. Teammates 3 and 4, on opposite sides of the court, break back toward midcourt together, 3 driving for the opponents of 1, 4 for the opponent of 2. As they near these men they pivot and so legally block them from following 1 and 2. Thus 1 and 2 swing down their respective sidelines and then cut for the basket. If the ball comes to No. 1, he shoots. If he should miss he and 2 are there for the rebound. Snappy work. So is the fast break play of Pitt from rebound that will show to-morrow.

Langford and Garrison Score Impressive Badminton Victories

Former Give Fine Exhibition To Win Over Willows Team

Match at Armories Yesterday Evening Results in 12 to 6 Victory for Garrison; Peter and Paul Phillips Play Well to Defeat Hincks and Rayment, 10-15, 15-6, 15-7; Many Extra Set Matches; Langford Defeat Y.M.C.A. 14 to 2.

Langford and Garrison "A" badminton teams chalked up victories in inter-club matches yesterday evening. Langford playing at the Y.M.C.A. scored a 14 to 2 win over the association's second team in the third division while the Garrison trounced Willows 12 to 6 at the Armories.

BAYS WIN TWO HOOP FIXTURES AND LOSE ONE

J.B.A.A. Reds Beat The Times; Women Defeat Hudson's Bays; College Victors

Winning the girls' event and one men's fixture, J.B.A.A. hoop teams emerged with the majority of honors from their three-game programme at the George gymnasium yesterday evening. In the other encounter Victoria College boys gained a 39 to 23 decision over the J.B.A.A. Blues after overtime.

In a nip and tuck struggle the Blues and College staged a battle from the start to finish. The lead swung from one team to the other, the scores being twenty-five all at full time. In an extra session the students pulled to the front, and led the fight with a win.

The rowing club's girls proved far too strong for the Hudson's Bays, winning by a 42 to 20 count. E. Midgley was high scorer for the Bays with fourteen points to her credit.

After The Times had run them a close race from the first whistle, the J.B.A.A. Reds gained a three-point lead that tied them over to victory in the other game of the evening. Alf Foulton, of the newbies, led the scores with seventeen points.

Jack Taylor refereed all games, and the teams and individual points follow:

J.B.A.A. Blues—Dempster 2, C. Bull 8, W. Burnett 3, S. Smith 4, D. Moses 6, A. Wright 2.

College—Fields 2, Jones 15, Mortimer 8, Fraser 4, Petch, Gwin.

J.B.A.A. girls—1. Sparks 7, 1. Crawford 3, E. Midgley 16, M. Sparks 6, G. Taylor 3, C. Yeaman, 1. Philbrook 2, K. Freestone 2.

Hudson's Bays—K. Miles 6, E. Eder 8, E. Mathews 4, G. Cooke 2, V. Reid, A. Buckle.

J.B.A.A. Reds—Scott 4, L. Williams 4, Stan Wright 4, A. Wright 10, D. Byrne 2, A. McLachlan 2, Ford 2.

Times—Webster 2, Prior 2, A. Foulton 17, Taylor 4, Mitchell.

Following the games the visiting teams were entertained at a dance in the J.B.A.A. clubrooms.

F. C. Underhill To Referee McKechnie Cup Game Saturday

Vancouver, Jan. 29.—President Jack Tyrwhitt of the British Columbia Rugby Union announced yesterday morning that the referees' board had appointed F. C. Underhill as referee of the Victoria-McKechnie Cup game at Brockton Point Saturday afternoon. The start has been set for 2:45 o'clock.

Langford and Garrison "A" badminton teams chalked up victories in inter-club matches yesterday evening. Langford playing at the Y.M.C.A. scored a 14 to 2 win over the association's second team in the third division while the Garrison trounced Willows 12 to 6 at the Armories.

Close matches featured the Garrison-Willows match. Willows showed great form to snow under three Garrison pairs in the men's doubles, including a win for Peter and Paul Phillips over Hincks and Rayment of the home team.

The Phillips brothers, holding the city title, lost to the Garrison pair in the first inter-club match but won yesterday evening after a hectic three-set battle.

Hincks and Rayment won the first set at 15-10 but weakened and the visitors took the final two sets, 15-6, 15-7 for a well-earned win. George Phillips and Harry Webb carried the Garrison champions, Edwards and Chambers, into camp in another three-set game, 18-10, 4-15, 15-9, while Gerry Rose and Duffley Wickett beat Don Campbell and Ross Hocking, 7-15, 15-12, 18-14 in another tough extra-set match.

Langford, although playing on a strange floor, did not encounter much difficulty in winning from the Y.M.C.A. "B" team.

The scores in the Garrison-Willows match with the Garrison players being named first, follow:

MEN'S DOUBLES

C. H. Rayment and D. Hincks lost to Paul and Peter Phillips, 10-15, 15-6, 15-7.

Veteran Player Goes to Portland Coast League Club

Portland, Jan. 29.—Thomas L. Turner, president of the Portland Baseball Club of the Pacific Coast League, announced yesterday that the Beavers have acquired Ira Flanagan, major league veteran outfielder. Flanagan, last year with Pittsburgh, obtained his unconditional release under the ten-year rule. He was for many years with Boston. His home is in Olympia, Wash. Turner said Flanagan hit better than 300 in the majors. He hits and throws left handed. He went to Boston from the Tacoma club of the old North-western League.

IV. PORCUPINES

Perhaps you do not know that porcupines have fur on their bodies. Unless we look closely at one of the animals, we see the spines or quills but miss the hair. The quills seem to say:

Sketch of a Porcupine

There is good reason not to touch the spines. They have barbs, which will pierce the flesh, but the old story that porcupines can shoot their quills is not true. Remain out of pouncing distance, and you will be safe.

The hair of porcupines is spread over the body amidst the quills. If it were not for the hairy coats, winter winds would cause great trouble to many porcupines live in good climates.

The homes of porcupines are often found under ledges of rock, in the hollows of trees, or in holes dug in the ground. The animals live largely on bark. They also eat apples, leaves, twigs and seeds.

During winter many porcupines crawl into their homes and sleep for long periods, while snow falls and winds howl outside.

The Canadian porcupine is the best-known member of the family in North America. He is a hardy animal, and has very sharp quills. In former times Indians in Canada often dyed the quills and then fastened them to clothing.

All porcupines have tails, but in many cases the tail is partly hidden by long quills. In South America there are porcupines with strong tails which can be used for clinging to the limbs of trees.

The name "porcupine" is made up from two old French words, and means "spiny porke" or "spiny pig." The animal makes a grunting noise, but otherwise has little or no kinship with the hog family.

LAW OF SUPPLY AND DEMAND SEEN BEST REGULATOR

Halifax, Jan. 29.—"The law of supply and demand is the greatest regulator in the world," asserted J. A. McLeod, general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, at a luncheon in connection with the annual shareholders' and directors' meetings here yesterday. Ar- tificial attempts to stabilize commodity prices had been, for the most, failures, he said.

"It is a surprise to a good many Canadians that the Maritimes have to such a large extent escaped the worst of the depression which the rest of the country is suffering," remarked S. J. Moore, president. "The fog of rising and the sun is commencing to shine on the industrial field. I believe that within the next few months there will be a distinctly different atmosphere throughout at least Ontario and Quebec."

Bridgeport, Conn., Is Scene of Fire

Bridgeport, Conn., Jan. 29.—Eleven firemen were injured, two seriously and forty-eight hotel guests were driven to the street yesterday evening when fire swept through three stores and the Arcade Hotel in the heart of the business district of this city. The losses are estimated at $100,000.

Lipsticks were used centuries ago by the maidens of Ur, the famous city of the Chaldees.

Exact Cause Of Cancer Still Puzzles Doctors

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

For many years all sorts of agencies have been investigating cancer. From time to time startling discoveries are recorded, but unfortunately most of these dealing with the treatment of cancer, except so far as concerns its early complete removal, have failed to be of permanent value.

In a recent consideration of the cancer problem, Dr. Clarence C. Little emphasizes the fact the present intensified research should probably yield even greater advances within the next few decades. He points out that there are at least four great fields of work in which new agencies are necessary. These have to do with the methods of classifying and distinguishing between the various types of cancer.

Everyone should realize that cancerous growths are not all the same. They vary according to the tissues involved and according to the nature of their growth. All methods of treatment must be closely analyzed, with a view to improvement, if possible.

It is also important to decrease the amount of cancer by educating people as to the value of early diagnosis, early treatment, and particularly the avoidance of causes of needless repeated ir- ritations to the tissues.

The final and probably the greatest problem of all is to determine the exact cause of cancer. It is interesting to know that in the attempt to find the cause practically every method of at- tack has already been tried. It has been studied as a possible infectious disease. It has been studied from the point of view of inheritance and from the point of view of chemistry and physics and by every other method.

It is already well known that heredity must play some part in the causation of cancer. From the point of view of the control of cancer, heredity seems to offer but little since human beings have not lent themselves readily to practical application of eugenics.

Cancer statistics have been of the greatest value in attempting to under- stand the disease, although unfortun- ately the wrong interpretation of sta- tistics by persons committed to un- established notions has frequently served to divert attention to unfavor- able channels.

It has seemed to Doctor Little that one of the most important steps to be taken in the study of cancer is the establishment of suitable facilities for diagnosis and for treatment by all of the well-established methods in great centres so that human material may be studied in an attempt to learn more about the cause and control of this dis- order.

RIFFLE ROCK

To the Editor:—Once again the ques- tion of Riffle Rock has cropped up and this time perhaps on a more solid foot- ing than ever before. For some consid- erable while its presence in—Geymour Narrows has been a very vexed question and much has been said for and against it.

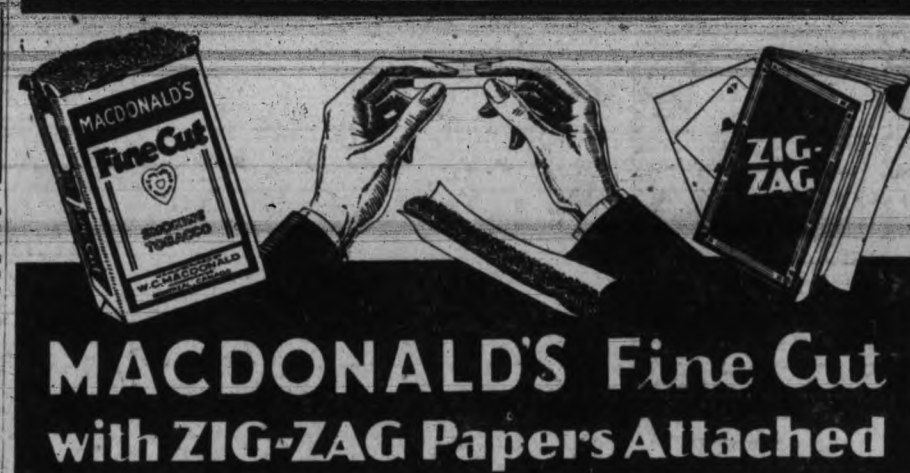

A meeting is to be held on Friday where many of those who are interested in the question will be present. It should be borne in mind, however, that whatever has been said in the past will this time bear very careful consideration. Many statements have been made which will no longer hold water and many of the before- mentioned statements will be found to be entirely erroneous, carefully worded and written with only one end in view, and that, to attract the attention of the average man about town and im- press him with the fact that the rock is an entirely innocent one, forming no danger whatever to navigation, and the removal of which would have the most serious effects upon Victoria.

Perhaps the most glaring misstate- ment has been one to the effect that "no loss had taken place traceable directly to Riffle Rock." Last year some of the most eminent citizens in Victoria were called upon to express their views—men who had undoubtedly done a very great deal in the building up of Vic- toria, and whose interests in voting for the removal of the rock would never have been given had they not consid- ered it a serious danger—and from their statements, actual facts which of course could not be disputed, it was apparent that many ships had actually hit the rock and sustained very severe damage in some cases. There was also a state- ment to the effect that the Narrows could be safely navigated at all stages of the tide—another piece of unreliable information. And again, even a few days ago, comes another statement to the effect that in spite of the fore- going the rock is not even a danger to navigation worth considering.

If the bridge was built and a ship became unmanageable in the tide rips, ultimately colliding with the pier which would arise above Riffle Rock, what then? No matter how solid the pier, no matter how well built, it would, at least, be badly shaken, loosened and perhaps shattered. A 6,000 or a 7,000-ton steamer is no light weight. Another situation, which in many ways is to the one which has recently arisen in Van- couver with the Second Narrows bridge, is the only real difference being that in this case a bridge costing many millions is at once in danger of col- lapse and perhaps of total destruction altogether.

Ships are yearly increasing in size and consequently in draught; also in number. To say that when you stand on the bridge of one of these present- day liners, no matter what national- ity, Canadian or American, and watch the captain take the vessel through the Narrows on a dark, rainy night, know- ing the approximate position of the rock and hear the dull grating noise of the waters boiling over it and know- ing full well that should an eddy ever push the ship out of her course, any- thing happens to the engine, or even the sudden appearance of a vessel ahead, the chances of a terrible calam- ity would at once arise, one in which hundreds of lives of tourists, women, and children below in the brightly lit saloons would be at stake—to say this rock does not constitute a very decided hazard and a considerable danger to navigation is ridiculous.

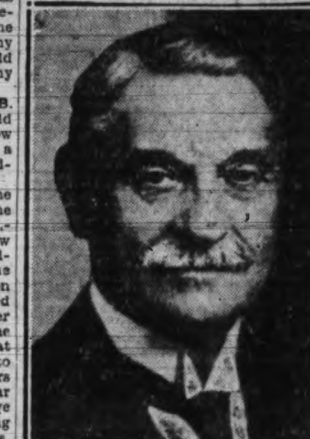

No, let us adhere strictly to the truth when dealing with this question. Nothing at all will be gained by trying to pass off on to the public a whole lot of unreliable information. And, finally, perhaps no better verdict can be given the ultimate fate of this rock than the judgment passed on it by those who know it best. Those who

SENATOR KING DECIDES TO RESIDE HERE

B.C.'s Newest Senator and Mrs. King Attracted to Victoria For Residence

Plan to Spend Most of the Year Here With Few Months in Ottawa

Senator James H. King, who represented Kootenay East in the Federal Commons and held the ranks of Minister of Public Works and subsequently Minister of Pensions and National Health in the Mackenzie King Government, reached the city yesterday afternoon from Ottawa, accompanied by Mrs. King.

Over the week-end, Senator and Mrs. King will be guests of Lieutenant-Governor Bruce at Government House, and will leave next week on a visit to the Kootenays.

When seen at the Empress Hotel this morning, Senator King explained that he was enjoying a holiday with his wife on the coast and planned to remain in British Columbia for six weeks before returning to Ottawa to take part in the deliberations of the senate.

It was readily admitted by the Senator and his wife to-day that they had finally decided to make their permanent home on the coast and that King left the impression that Victoria would be their choice of residence. They both have many friends in Vancouver who have been very persuasive in their efforts to get them to make their home on the other side of the Gulf. They have a large number of friends in Victoria who are just as pressing, and the old associations here will, it seems, decide the problem.

INSPECT RESIDENCE
"Yes, we have definitely decided to make our home out here," said Senator King as he put on his hat with the intention of going out to inspect a residence that Mrs. King and himself were considering as their future place of residence here.

"We have so many friends on the coast that we feel impelled to make our home among them," remarked Mrs. King. "It is so different out here."

In the performance of his senatorial duties, it will be necessary for Senator and Mrs. King to reside in Ottawa for several months of the year. They are looking forward, however, to spending most of the time out here.

Mrs. R. P. Butchart took the stand this morning in the trial before Mr. Justice Gregory and a jury of the action of the Malahat Park Limited against the B.C. Cement Company for unstated damages on account of the alleged ruin of the resort sites around the cement works by dust from the plant.

"Did you notice any effect on your garden of the fumes from the plant?" asked H. A. Maclean, K.C., defence counsel.

"There were absolutely no fumes from the plant," Mrs. Butchart replied.

"Did you notice any effect on the vegetation in your garden?" Mr. Maclean asked.

"I think the dust was very good for the fertilization of the plants," Mrs. Butchart replied.

"You did have dust, then?" the judge asked.

"Very little," Mrs. Butchart said.

CHANGED TO WET PROCESS
Mrs. Butchart explained that the Tod Inlet plant, adjoining the gardens, was operated from 1905 to 1913. She said she used to look after some of the tests. The dry process of making cement was used until 1913 when the wet process was put in. The wet process was less dusty than the dry.

"But it was not better than the dust that we changed over from dry to wet," Mrs. Butchart went on. "It was the cost. It does not make any difference to us which process we use as long as we make money."

"But there was some dust on your property?" Mr. Robertson asked.

"Wherever it fell it did some good," Mrs. Butchart replied.

NEWS IN BRIEF

John K. Stewart, of Chemist, and W. H. Rice, carrying on business as Stewart's Garage, started action in the County Court to-day against John May, of Sooke, for $179 due for oil and gas services.

A card game will be held in the school annex to-night at 8 o'clock by the Quadra Parent-Teacher Association. Military five hundred will be played and prizes awarded.

Reese E. C. Hayward, of Oak Bay, was congratulated on his appointment to the senate of the University of British Columbia at the Rotary Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

Thanks for the generosity of the School Board for the donation of books to the Victoria High School library were voiced in a letter from Ira D. Worth, principal, to the board, read at its meeting yesterday evening.

Purchase of a multigraph machine at the request of the James Bay Parent-Teacher Association was referred to the finance committee with power to act at the meeting of the Victoria School Board yesterday evening.

Requests for a vacuum cleaner, floor waxer and improvements to the Victoria College grounds were made by F. H. Elliott, principal, to the school board at its meeting yesterday evening. They were referred to various committees for reports.

Plans for four hand concerts, under the direction of G. Green, fifty per cent of the proceeds of which would go to the school and the remainder towards the purchase of cadet band uniforms, were announced by Mr. Green in a letter to the Victoria School Board at its meeting yesterday evening. The move was endorsed by the board.

George Kay of Fulford Harbor won his action before Judge Lampman in the County Court against Mrs. W. H. Horel of Salt Spring Island for money due him on a tie-cutting contract. R. A. Wootton was counsel for Mr. Kay, while F. C. Elliott defended Mrs. Horel.

Albert H. Maynard will to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Foresters' Lodgeroom give a lecture on the early days of Victoria. He will illustrate his lecture with his collection of interesting and instructive photographs of the city over fifty years ago.

Maynard is giving this entertainment to help the fund now being raised to assist members of the order who are in financial difficulties at this time.

A fire under the engine hood of an automobile belonging to the Blue Line Taxi Company was speedily dealt with this afternoon at 1:35 o'clock at the intersection of the main street and the C.N.R. line.

The driver noticed the trouble as he was coming south along Quadra Street, just before he turned to Fort Street. By the time the car was brought to a stop the flames had done a good deal of damage to the engine wiring, though the blaze was extinguished by the department before it spread to the body of the car.

Renewed efforts to secure distribution of the proceeds of the Coquitlam sealing seizure, which took place in the early 90's, have been made by Premier Tolmie. The Federal Government at Ottawa has held for many years a sum of the United States paid into court as compensation. Nearly three years ago Dr. Tolmie was assured that distribution would be made "within thirty days."

More than 200 Eagles and their friends assembled in the Eagles' Hall yesterday evening and enjoyed an excellent program which included series of moving pictures shown by G. Gibson, through the courtesy of the Canadian National Railways. Views of Jasper Park, Mink and other beauty spots on the C.N.R. lines were shown. Solos were contributed by Mrs. Bertucci, Bro. G. Lipp, H. Clear, Ronald Smith, a piano sketch, with Jerry Scholfield, banjo selections. Bro. Frank Leroy gave an interesting address on Egleston. Bro. Frank Cawsey presided and at the close refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

D. O. Cameron, former director of the Consumers Coal, went on the stand and testified that all the coal ever produced from the property was sixty tons brought to Victoria.

Low Protein Wheat Land Sought In B.C.

Dean F. M. Clement of U.B.C. Outlines Possibilities in Field Before Rotarians at Luncheon To-day; Congratulates Clubmen on Work in Encouraging Children to Grow Good Seeds; His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor Says British Columbia Coming Seed Centre of World.

SEED GROWERS GIVEN PRIZES

Young Gardeners Told of Value of Seed Contests By Lieutenant-Governor

Prizes For Rotary Club Contest Awarded at Club Luncheon To-day

"If you keep on digging, you will find that there is lots more gold than your prize money," Lieutenant-Governor Bruce told young gardeners in presenting prizes to the winners of the Rotary Club's seed-growing competition at the club's luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

First honors were given to Humphrey Butler of Keating, who received a ten-dollar gold piece and the Butcher Cup, emblematic of highest laurels in the contest.

Stephen Jackson of Sidney received the second prize, Royal Duct of Prospect Lake the third, Eileen Young of Keating the fourth. Gwendoline Thomas of Sidney the fifth.

Before the presentation, Norman Rant, chairman of the club's Agricultural Education Committee, outlined the features of the competition. An effort would be made to secure co-operation on the part of teachers in the effort next year, he declared.

Seventeen of the twenty-one competitors were present. The prize money was $100.00. The prize money was $100.00. The prize money was $100.00.

During the last ten years the Department of Agriculture at U.B.C. had worked with dairy men and had increased their incomes by about $1,000 annually. To do this the U.B.C. group showed the farmers how to produce greater butter fat from smaller herds.

USE BETTER SEEDS
Were I enunciating a policy to-day I would advocate the use of better seed in B.C., the speaker declared, "because that policy greater yields of higher quality could be secured without extra labor or cost," he added.

"The farmers of B.C. in general, however, do not realize that the seed which they use is not usually considered a wheat-growing center, there were tracts on Vancouver Island producing wheat as good as any in the world. Dean Clement said that in the future, B.C. would be a fine opportunity to develop low-protein wheat, for which is was estimated, the Oriental market potentialities were set at approximately $7,500,000.

Wheat protein varied according to the environment in which it was planted, the speaker said, before noting that the university was looking for a tract in which low-protein wheat could be grown with the best results.

He congratulated the Rotary Club on its work in encouraging the children in agriculture.

LIKE MAN WHO RUNS IT
"For," he said, "the farm, be it stock, grain or poultry, eventually settles to the grade of man who runs it." In a work, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, "took off his official hat" to the work of the club.

"The move we are doing for the children in this field, the more we are doing for ourselves," he said.

The achievements of Herman Treble, in winning the world's wheat championship, and of other Canadians, who won forty-six of the fifty prizes at the World Wheat Fair in Chicago, had directed the speaker to the west.

His Honor predicted that British Columbia would become the centre of the seed growing industry in the near future.

Among the guests of honor at the head table were His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and A. M. D. Fairbairn, C.B. Munro, Deputy Minister of Agriculture; W. H. Robertson and E. W. White, of the Department of Agriculture, and George Robinson, seed grower and judge in the competition.

Arkless claimed he was not drunk and was on his knees "praying to Mohammed." He suggested that one of the police officers who testified he was drunk was "full of prunes." The magistrate ruled for a conviction in all cases, however.

Mrs. Amelia Dawson described the noise made by the men as "like a madhouse."

Police officers testified they found the three men in a room of an Ontario Street boarding house. Morrison was sitting on a bed, Collins was lying on the floor and Arkless was in a crouching position on hands and knees when police entered. They were all drunk, the police said.

PICKWICK CASE SHOWS CHANGE IN LEGAL WAYS

Mr. Justice Martin Cites Dickens in Solloway-Mills Appeal

Crown Claims Wide Powers Under Securities Frauds Prevention Act

Dickens's epic legal story, Pickwick vs. Bardell, was quoted from the bench of the British Columbia Court of Appeal this morning by Mr. Justice Martin during the battle of Solloway, Mills and McElroy to upset the Securities Frauds Prevention Act.

A. H. McNeill, K.C., representing Attorney-General Pooley and Mark Cosgrave, respondents in the appeal, had cited the upholding of the Manitoba Securities Frauds Prevention Act, Saskatchewan legislation prohibiting employment of white girls by Chinamen and the powers whereunder civil suits might result in imprisonment up to one year. These instances were advanced to show that the British Columbia Securities Frauds Prevention Act provided for no unusual penalties.

Mr. Justice Martin asked a number of questions and then remarked: "There is the well-known instance where Pickwick was jailed for debt. That story of Dickens was very true, though now one cannot take the body for debt. But there exists a legal act which restores to the individual the right to the corpus of the individual when he is re-arrested and will not pay a judgment when he is able so to do."

DOMINION INCORPORATION
Mr. McNeill contested the view of J. W. de B. Parris, appellants' counsel, that the Securities Frauds Prevention Act infringed the rights of the Dominion Incorporated companies. He asserted that the rights exercised under the Act were of a police or supervisory nature and that it was just that the Province should supervise methods of doing business. When he asserted that the Province had the right to stop the business of any concern, Mr. Justice Martin suggested that distribution of notes issued by Confederate states would be such a matter.

Counsel, believed the authorities should go farther and entirely prohibit a man so engaged from carrying on business. The Chief Justice demurred, remarking that the limitation could only extend to the improper dealings. "Do you contend that a notorious thief, released from sentence, he told he cannot again enter business?" His Lordship asked, whereupon counsel limited his statement to selling of bogus shares.

NO SHIELD TO PERSONS
Mr. Justice McPhillips pointed out that the right of the Province to investigate individuals could not be barred by the process of setting up Dominion Incorporated as a shield, where Mr. McNeill claimed the explicit right to investigate all companies, as well as individuals, whose business brought them within the scope of the Act.

USE OF EVIDENCE
Mr. Justice Gallie asked questions as to the use of evidence secured under powers contained in the Securities Frauds Prevention Act, drawing a distinction between prosecutions instituted after the accumulation of evidence and use of the Act to secure evidence with which to bolster prosecutions initiated prior to investigations.

Mr. McNeill having stated that evidence secured by such investigations could properly be used in criminal prosecutions, Justice Gallie remarked upon the need to consider whether the fact did not bring the Act within the general rules governing criminal law.

The hearing is proceeding this afternoon.

NOT DRUNK BUT PRAYING CLAIMS MAN IN COURT

Convicted of causing a disturbance by being drunk, John Morrison, Thomas Arkless and Anthony Collins were each sentenced to one month imprisonment by Magistrate George Jay in City Police Court this morning.

Police officers testified they found the three men in a room of an Ontario Street boarding house. Morrison was sitting on a bed, Collins was lying on the floor and Arkless was in a crouching position on hands and knees when police entered. They were all drunk, the police said.

Mrs. Amelia Dawson described the noise made by the men as "like a madhouse."

Police officers testified they found the three men in a room of an Ontario Street boarding house. Morrison was sitting on a bed, Collins was lying on the floor and Arkless was in a crouching position on hands and knees when police entered. They were all drunk, the police said.

Arkless claimed he was not drunk and was on his knees "praying to Mohammed." He suggested that one of the police officers who testified he was drunk was "full of prunes." The magistrate ruled for a conviction in all cases, however.

PICKWICK CASE SHOWS CHANGE IN LEGAL WAYS

Mr. Justice Martin Cites Dickens in Solloway-Mills Appeal

Crown Claims Wide Powers Under Securities Frauds Prevention Act

Dickens's epic legal story, Pickwick vs. Bardell, was quoted from the bench of the British Columbia Court of Appeal this morning by Mr. Justice Martin during the battle of Solloway, Mills and McElroy to upset the Securities Frauds Prevention Act.

A. H. McNeill, K.C., representing Attorney-General Pooley and Mark Cosgrave, respondents in the appeal, had cited the upholding of the Manitoba Securities Frauds Prevention Act, Saskatchewan legislation prohibiting employment of white girls by Chinamen and the powers whereunder civil suits might result in imprisonment up to one year. These instances were advanced to show that the British Columbia Securities Frauds Prevention Act provided for no unusual penalties.

Mr. Justice Martin asked a number of questions and then remarked: "There is the well-known instance where Pickwick was jailed for debt. That story of Dickens was very true, though now one cannot take the body for debt. But there exists a legal act which restores to the individual the right to the corpus of the individual when he is re-arrested and will not pay a judgment when he is able so to do."

DOMINION INCORPORATION
Mr. McNeill contested the view of J. W. de B. Parris, appellants' counsel, that the Securities Frauds Prevention Act infringed the rights of the Dominion Incorporated companies. He asserted that the rights exercised under the Act were of a police or supervisory nature and that it was just that the Province should supervise methods of doing business. When he asserted that the Province had the right to stop the business of any concern, Mr. Justice Martin suggested that distribution of notes issued by Confederate states would be such a matter.

Counsel, believed the authorities should go farther and entirely prohibit a man so engaged from carrying on business. The Chief Justice demurred, remarking that the limitation could only extend to the improper dealings. "Do you contend that a notorious thief, released from sentence, he told he cannot again enter business?" His Lordship asked, whereupon counsel limited his statement to selling of bogus shares.

NO SHIELD TO PERSONS
Mr. Justice McPhillips pointed out that the right of the Province to investigate individuals could not be barred by the process of setting up Dominion Incorporated as a shield, where Mr. McNeill claimed the explicit right to investigate all companies, as well as individuals, whose business brought them within the scope of the Act.

USE OF EVIDENCE
Mr. Justice Gallie asked questions as to the use of evidence secured under powers contained in the Securities Frauds Prevention Act, drawing a distinction between prosecutions instituted after the accumulation of evidence and use of the Act to secure evidence with which to bolster prosecutions initiated prior to investigations.

Mr. McNeill having stated that evidence secured by such investigations could properly be used in criminal prosecutions, Justice Gallie remarked upon the need to consider whether the fact did not bring the Act within the general rules governing criminal law.

The hearing is proceeding this afternoon.

NOT DRUNK BUT PRAYING CLAIMS MAN IN COURT

Convicted of causing a disturbance by being drunk, John Morrison, Thomas Arkless and Anthony Collins were each sentenced to one month imprisonment by Magistrate George Jay in City Police Court this morning.

Police officers testified they found the three men in a room of an Ontario Street boarding house. Morrison was sitting on a bed, Collins was lying on the floor and Arkless was in a crouching position on hands and knees when police entered. They were all drunk, the police said.

Arkless claimed he was not drunk and was on his knees "praying to Mohammed." He suggested that one of the police officers who testified he was drunk was "full of prunes." The magistrate ruled for a conviction in all cases, however.

New Agricultural Appointment For B.C.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 29. — A. E. Richards, formerly on the staff of the Dominion experimental farm at Agassiz, B.C., has been appointed to the staff of the agriculture economics branch of the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa. The appointment marks an important extension of the work of the agricultural economics branch as it provides direct representation for British Columbia in the work of the branch. Mr. Richards is specially qualified for his new work, having a lifelong experience with agricultural problems in the coast province.

PROSPECTS FOR AIRWAYS IN WEST AFRICA

Official of British Air Ministry
Visions Opening of Virgin Territory

London, Jan. 29. — A vision of airways linking some of the more remote territories of the Empire is raised by the report of a visit paid by W. A. Campbell, one of the civil aviation officers of the British Air Ministry, to West Africa.

Nigeria, Gambia, the Gold Coast, Sierra Leone—these are names not yet to be found in any guide book to world airways. The great air route soon to be opened through Africa from Cairo to Capetown lies thousands of miles to the east; the French terminus of the air mail line from Paris and Morocco is, it is true, at Dakar, a small town in French Senegal only 100 miles from Bathurst in the Gambia, but no air connections yet exist. Airplanes are seldom seen in most parts of this vast area. Royal Air Force bombers which recently traversed Africa from Khartoum to Bathurst flew many hundreds of miles through virgin air, passing over great tracts where airmen had never previously ventured.

Yet the region seems destined to draw abundant profit from the establishment of air services. Surface transport, by land or water, is generally slow and tedious.

Mr. Campbell considers that certain routes might be placed in immediate operation. Chief of these is a line, operated by flying boats, between Calabar in Nigeria and St. Louis or Dakar in French Senegal. Along this route, measuring 2,300 miles of coastline, the flying machines would call at Bathurst, Bokoma (Portuguese Guinea), Freetown, Monrovia (capital of the negro state Liberia), Grand Bassam (French Ivory Coast), Takoradi, the great port in the Gold Coast, and Lagos. Then inland up the Niger River, amphibious planes might penetrate nearly a thousand miles to a junction at the town of Zinder with the Franco-Belgian airway across the Sahara to Europe. Seaplanes or amphibians might also ply regularly along the Benue, a huge tributary of the Niger, for 125 miles from the confluence, tapping other remote districts.

Good land air routes exist in Nigeria and the Gambia, but the immediate future calls for solely water-operated or amphibious aircraft, classes of flying machines in which Great Britain fairly claims design achievement not surpassed by any other aircraft producing nation.

Abundant Water Supply Assured City of Regina

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 29. — As a result of investigations by the geological survey branch of the Federal Department of Mines, the city of Regina is assured of an abundant water supply and an area favorable for drilling has been located near Moose Jaw.

An official report issued yesterday comments that the investigations into water resources may later have an important bearing on the agricultural industry of southern Saskatchewan. "It has long been held a solution of the wheat situation in the west lies in the adoption of mixed farming on the prairies," the report continues. "A pre-requisite of such type of farming is a large available source of water supply."

NEW PONTIAC BOASTS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

Handsome 1931 Models Will Leave Factory To-morrow For Canadian Distribution

Oshawa, Ont., Jan. 29.—The 1931 Pontiac, with five body styles all strikingly beautiful, and with new standards of comfort and performance, is being presented to-morrow to the motoring public by General Motors of Canada. Notwithstanding the fact that the new Pontiac is larger than before, and has a number of engineering improvements, it is being offered for less than the price at which any previous Pontiac has been introduced.

Most noticeable of the changes in the new Pontiac, as it flashes along the highway, is the longer wheel base, which lends itself to more beautiful body proportions and has permitted the designing of a bigger, lower appearing automobile. Other improvements introduced by Pontiac engineers affect safety and ease of operation of the car, its engine reliability, ventilation, and riding comfort. Rubber insulation has been developed to a new high point of efficiency.

The external advance in the styling of the distinctive new Pontiac cars is found in the chrome-plated screen which conceals and protects the radiator core; in the curved fender tie-bar supporting the new chrome-plated head lamp; in the longer hood secured by a single handle lock on each side; in one-piece full-crown fenders carrying indicator lamps; in the concave running board aprons smoothly carrying the body contour to the running boards which themselves are aluminum-bound and rubber-ribbed. New belt mouldings and a new type of sun visor add further touches of distinction.

RIDING COMFORT

Extensive use of rubber for insulation against road shocks has contributed greatly to the factor of riding comfort in the new Pontiac. The whole body is practically cushioned on rubber. Metal spring shackle bushings have been replaced throughout by rubber bushings and the heavier frame and body are entirely insulated by live rubber from the springs and axles and, it is stated, this design of spring shackle eliminates twelve chassis lubrication points.

The 1931 Pontiac is offered in the coach, standard sedan, sport sedan and the standard and sport coupes.

All the basic features of design of the old Pontiac, which were responsible for its staunch qualities and reputation, have been retained in the new car, yet several further refinements have been achieved. The air purifier formerly used on the Pontiac engine has been replaced by a new device called the air silencer, and it serves to reduce the hissing of the carburetor during periods of acceleration. It also acts as a positive arrester of back fires and it eliminates the roar caused during high speed operation by the vibration of air columns in the intake manifold.

Positive lubrication to the front and rear camshaft bearings has been added.

USE RUBBER

Observers of automotive engineering advancement will be particularly interested in the extent to which rubber has been employed in the construction of the new Pontiac. Rubber is used in many new places; even the engine mountings are insulated with that substance. Incidentally, the Pontiac rear engine support arms have been moved back to the transmission case, eliminating overhang of the clutch and transmission units and reducing the effect of engine torque reactions.

Rubber appears in the transmission drive, which has been redesigned to include a rubber hub of the type that has seen several years of successful service on the Oldland car. This hub cushions engine torque and minimizes telegraphing of axle and road noises up through the propeller shaft.

The same function is served in both cars by heavy moulded rubber pads placed above and below the rear springs where they are secured to the rear axle, thus completely insulating the springs from the axle and from the attaching parts.

Metal spring shackle bushings have been abandoned entirely in favor of the heavy rubber shackle bushings mentioned previously, which are of a design developed in the General Motors Research Laboratories.

NEW METHOD

"The gradual decrease in the water level of the conventional radiator," says a Pontiac engineer, "is due to the escape through the filler neck and overflow pipe of vapor caused by heat in the engine circulation passages. This vapor may have been formed either from water, anti-freeze solution, or it may be a combination of both. Pumped back from the engine to the conventional radiator, this vapor enters a top or hot water tank, from which the filler neck and overflow pipe provide direct access to the open air. The water, and such vapor as has not escaped by these avenues, then flows downward through the radiator cooling core into a bottom or cool water tank and back to the engine."

"In the cross-flow radiator the hot and cool water tanks are placed vertically on either side of the honeycomb core instead of at top and bottom. The sealed hot water tank of this radiator has no outlet to the outside air. The hot water must flow horizontally across the cooling core into the cool water tank on the other side. An extension across the top of the core provides the cooling system's only connection with the filler neck and the overflow pipe. Before reaching these possible exits, however, the vapor in passing through the radiator has been condensed back into liquid form."

FORMER CANDIDATE DIES

Los Angeles, Jan. 29. — George Thomas Odell, ninety-four, wealthy retired manufacturer of Salt Lake City, Utah, died here yesterday evening after a brief illness. Odell, born in England, was prominent in Utah business, and was an unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Utah and for mayor of Salt Lake City.

Earlier Curfew Law For Night Clubs of New York

New York, Jan. 29.—Mayor Jimmy Walker's 3 a.m. curfew law for night clubs, which was designed to save honest workmen, bound for their day's labors from the sight of shirt-shirted and slightly unsteady revelers, is due for revision.

And the revision will be upward. Police Commissioner Mulrooney yesterday announced he intended to ask for an ordinance closing all establishments of nocturnal enjoyment at 1 a.m. He wants this law to apply to every club. The present regulation exempts cabarets and such like whose operators own the buildings in which they are located.

Commissioner Mulrooney declared the "general good of all citizens necessitates the early ban."

Influenza Wave In U.S. Spreads With Rapidity

Washington, Jan. 29. — A rapid spread of influenza is reported by the United States Public Health Service, with a total of 7,275 cases this week as compared with 3,367 a week ago.

The Public Health Service estimates the disease is about five times as prevalent as shown in the report, since as reporting and others have only the several states do not require influenza statistics furnished by physicians.

Severe Itching Burning Pimples on Head. Healed by Cuticura.

"My trouble began with an itching and burning of the skin. Later the back of my head and neck broke out in little watery, sore pimples. In a short time they became larger and festered and scaled over. The itching and burning were so severe that they caused me to lose my rest at night."

"I did not get any relief until I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using it I purchased more and in about three weeks I was completely healed."

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)

Winnipeg, Jan. 29.—Wheat: The market opened with a strong upward movement, turning decidedly strong, prices on the extreme bulge scoring gains of more than two cents. The market opened a quarter higher and there was sufficient buying by export and seaboard houses dribbling in to carry the market up the first cent, after which the market ran into some considerable stop loss buying and selling, combined with buying by those who put their wheat yesterday and were re-estimating their lines to-day, together with some investment buying for the long pull, brought about the last upturn of one cent. Sentiment was decidedly more friendly and the general opinion appeared to be that the market was due for an upturn.

Export business overnight was placed finally at one million bushels, most of which was worked by the pool. Export sales on Tuesday were probably a little larger than reported, some one million bushels to one European country is pending and liable to be worked any time. There was no particular feature to the cash wheat demand. Large holdings are not being placed in present prices and offerings are very light, only odd cars and small lots trading with spreads mostly unchanged, except for an odd car or so of some grain that someone may specially want for which a fraction more is obtainable. Flour business is quiet. Liverpool closed 1/4 to 1/2 higher and Buenos Aires was 1/4 to 1/2 higher late this afternoon. Winnipeg futures closed 1/4 to 2 cents higher.

Coarse grains: These markets all displayed strength, largely following the lead in wheat and corn, the latter being about 1/4 higher. There was nothing much doing in the cash markets aside from a few odd cars of oats and barley worked for domestic account. Oats closed 1/4 to 1/2 up, barley 1 cent to 1/2 higher, and rye 1/2 to 1/4 higher.

Flax: This market continued dull and draggy, closing half lower to unchanged with demand very slight.

Liverpool: Due 1/4 to 1/2 higher, based on Winnipeg.

Canada Holding Advance Attained In Last Five Years, Borden Says

Toronto, Jan. 29.—Addressing the annual meeting of the Crown Life Insurance Company held here, Sir Robert Borden, president, referred to the world-wide business depression and stated that while severe conditions would probably prevail throughout the winter, Canada had cause to face the future with confidence, regarding them as merely marking a brief halt in the march of our national progress.

"This reasonable confidence," said Sir Robert, "is strengthened by a comparison of our present production and development with that of five years ago. The advance then attained has not been lost, notwithstanding the immense depreciation of commodity values. Our country has come through crisis as effectively as any country in the world. Taking into account the immense natural resources of our country, the energy and resourcefulness of our people and the satisfactory confidence in the future, we may look forward with firm hearts to the outcome."

BUSINESS HOLDS NEAR PEAK

H. R. Stephenson, general manager, reported new policies issued of $24,819, a reduction of only six per cent from the record issue of 1929 and exceeding that of any previous year. Insurance in force on December 31, 1930, was $24,127,107. Cash income totaled $4,842,000 and assets totaled $15,387,895. The mortality was lower than in any year since 1926 and the disability experience was favorable. Payment to policyholders totaled $1,480,218, including $353,960 dividends to policyholders. Average rate of interest over entire invested assets was 6.41 per cent a little higher than in previous years.

C. W. Somers, vice-president, stated that assets were in excellent condition. Only a few of the best common stocks were held and amount to less than two per cent of assets. There was no interest or dividend in arrears on any bond, debenture or stock held by the company on December 31. The total amount overdue on mortgages was less than one-thirtieth of one per cent on the principal.

Directors were elected as follows: Rt. Hon. Sir Robert L. Borden, president; C. W. Somers, vice-president; Grant Hall, F. E. Brown, K.C., H. D. Burns, W. P. Watkins, W. R. Morison, G. O. Somers, G. E. Sprague, G. A. Morison, F. H. McD. Russell, K.C., and H. R. Stephenson.

DOMINION BANK HEAD BLAMES EXTRAVAGANCE FOR PRESENT TROUBLES

Addresses of the president and the vice-president and general manager delivered at the annual meeting of shareholders of the Dominion Bank, in Toronto on Wednesday, which was recognizing the difficulties still confronting business, expressed confidence in Canada's fundamentally sound position and assurance in her future.

A large number of shareholders attended the meeting, the sixtieth anniversary and diamond jubilee of the bank.

"The present generation of young farmers has been brought up from boyhood in an atmosphere of high prices and a standard of living based upon them, and to many mixed farming is only a name for an obsolete form of drudgery once practiced by their parents and forefathers in the east," said President A. W. Austin.

"The isolated life makes for conservative thinking and resistance to change, but necessity is bringing about some reform in this regard."

"Too much cannot be looked for too soon, however, these in urgent need of money cannot rightly be expected to do otherwise than continue to sow a reasonable quantity of wheat this spring, and in any case organization and special credit facilities for agriculture are being discussed."

Necessary before any general transformation is possible. Already many farmers with unaided coarse grains on hand and ample water supply are for the first time fattening a few head of beef cattle, of which there is a shortage. Hog raising is profitable, and is becoming more general, while the most encouraging sign of all is that the agrarian population are living off their own farms and depending less on the town, tending to correct the anomaly of a people occupying the most fertile land in the world importing much of their food in cans from outside their country and even from other countries.

LUMBER AND FISHERIES CONDITIONS

"The fisheries reported a record catch of salmon, but European demand is below normal, prices are low and a cheap Siberian product for the time being appears to have captured the market."

"In lumber the small demand and low prices kept many mills closed during 1930 and operations in the camps were reduced."

The president then turned to manufacturers' operations and retail trade.

"Many manufacturers are operating on part time, though the wholesale trade is reported as not so far below normal for this time of year," he went on.

"Retailers enjoyed fairly good business during the holiday period, and much of this was seasonal and it cannot be said that any definite improvement is yet in sight. There is a marked price decrease in many luxury lines."

STOCK MARKET OUTLOOK

Speaking of the stock market and the speculative element, Mr. Austin said:

"The purely speculative element appears to have been pretty well wiped out in 1930, but during 1930 many cases cropped up of unwise ventures in the stock market by business men and companies which contributed to the number of insolvencies."

Failures for the first ten months were 1,941, with total liabilities of over $40,000,000, as compared to 1,768 and $32,000,000 in 1929, a considerable increase, for which speculation was largely responsible, perhaps more so than actual depression.

"The stock market situation is now, however, much sounder than for some time past, and speculative trading is at a low ebb."

BANK'S PROFITS HOLDING

C. A. Bogert, vice-president and general manager, in his address first fully reviewed the bank's statement for the twelve months ending December 31, last. He referred particularly to the bank's very strong liquid position, with immediately realizable assets nearly $3.50 per cent of public liabilities and cash assets 21 per cent, of public liabilities. He further pointed out that notwithstanding all the difficulties in general business that net profits were only $112,000 less than the previous year when the bank's profits were the highest in history."

FEWER PREDICTIONS

Continuing, the general manager extended his remarks to the future, and stated that while many people have been over-optimistic in over-pessimism, in part he said:

"We are listening every day to comments on the probable causes and possible cures of world-wide conditions. Unfortunately, with many people over-optimism has given place to over-pessimism, and some of those who two or three years ago thought 'property would go on forever' are now saying that it will never return. Others apparently expect to awake some morning to find that good times have suddenly arrived. All experience shows the fallacy of such extreme views; we have had many booms of one kind and another in the past, followed by hard times, but normal prosperity has always come back and of a certain present condition will right themselves sooner or later. Attempting to foretell exact time is so much wasted effort. As one writer aptly puts it, predicting an upturn of business has itself become one of our leading industries, but improvement will not come through hope, and what we need is fewer predictions, thoughtful consideration of our problems, and more work. People have formed the habit of thinking in terms of pessimism, but it must be borne in mind that economic conditions do not last, and though the process may be tedious, it will probably take less time to correct the situation than it did to create it—better than that we have no right to expect."

BUY NOW IDEAS WRONG

Mr. Bogert believes that the primary cause of over-production was abuse of instalment buying, so called high-pressure salesmanship and extravagance.

"It is a wrong idea frequently expressed that freer spending would automatically improve business, for public buying of unrequired articles cannot do any lasting good and old-fashioned economy is best in the long run. In any case the only effective stimulant to buying is price reduction, and it is not as yet apparent that this advantage of lower prices has been passed on to the consumer, as ultimately it must be. Buyers will appear when they think things are cheap enough and not before."

WHEAT PROBLEM

The speaker dealt with the causes of shrinking grain prices and referred to the return of Russia as an exporter.

"Shrinking grain prices, which particularly affect Canada, are due in part at least to the policy of European countries, formerly importers, increasing their own output and placing prohibitive tariffs on foreign wheat. The oppression of war debts payments hampers their buying power and this is doubtless the chief factor in stimulating the creation of a food supply independent of this continent. Low prices prevailing should logically result in reduced acreage everywhere—Russia excepted—and possibly restore these markets."

"The return of Russia as an exporter is an extremely significant event, to which sufficient attention has not been paid even yet. It is idle to abuse Russia for dumping her grain in the free British market, or to criticize other countries for selling her the equipment that makes this competition so formidable. Her re-entry is an accomplished fact and Canada will always have to face it. Lower prices must be met with lower costs, and that is the agricultural problem now confronting this country."

GOLD SHORTAGE

Dealing with the question as to whether gold shortage is the root cause of the world's difficulties, as many authorities assert, Mr. Bogert said:

"Undoubtedly a shortage does exist and the accumulation of over fifty per cent of the insufficient total stock in the hands of two countries works to the detriment of the others."

"The world's yearly production is about $400,000,000, fifty per cent of which comes from South Africa, but her mines are rapidly declining and will probably yield no more than $125,000,000 per annum by 1940. The demand, already acute, will be extremely grave by then, unless adequate fresh discoveries are made in the meantime, coupled with a more equitable distribution of the supply."

A very favorable feature is that Canada now ranks second among gold-producing countries, already contributing $43,000,000 to the annual output, and increasing every year."

NATIONAL DEBT TO RISE

Mr. Bogert then discussed Canada's national debt and stated that seventy-five per cent of the country's obligations were held by Canadians.

"Since 1923, when Canada's national debt reached its peak of $2,500,000,000, steady reductions totaling over eleven per cent, have been effected, interest charge have been substantially lowered through refunding and cuts made in the income tax rate. The current year, however, will see an addition to the debt, and it will be some time before further reduction can be expected or the taxpayers granted relief."

"It is rumored within the last week that the Federal Government is seriously considering the adoption of a turn-over tax, a painful way of obtaining revenue, which would un-

Why Can't Mothers Let Their Married Children Run Their Own Lives? Cries One of Victims of Maternal Interference; Will a Waster Work After Marriage?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Twenty years ago when we were married my husband and I were very much in love with each other, very congenial and had every prospect of happiness. Now we have lost interest in each other, have nothing in common and have settled down to an endurance of marriage. Neither one of us has done anything wrong. We are just alienated from each other, and I blame this state of affairs on our respective mothers.

My mother has been domineered over by my father, so she urged me not to let my husband rule me, not to trust him, to spend all the money I wanted and keep him working hard; not to let him run with the boys, etc. I thought she knew and I followed her advice. She killed my faith in my husband and caused me to be suspicious and to do the things that must have made me very hard to live with.

My husband's mother began by disliking me simply because I had married her son, and she, too, advised. She told my husband never to let me know what his income was, never to consult me in business, never to give me any money of my own, never to consider my pleasure in anything, and to make me give an account of my incomings and outgoings, and always to remember that he was the head of the house and that I must obey him.

I feel that our mothers have ruined our happiness and that they have made a breach between us that will not have been there but for them. Why can't mothers keep their hands off and let their married children run their own lives?

R. E. L.

Answer—I don't know. Perhaps it is because mothers never realize that their children are grown-up and are capable of managing their own affairs. Perhaps it is the meddling instinct that is inherent in most women that makes it impossible for them to keep their fingers out of other people's pies. Perhaps it is the selfish desire of every mother to see her own child be the little tin god in a marriage and enslave the party of the other part.

Most likely it is just mother jealousy that strikes out blindly at the one who has taken her child from her, but any way it happens, it is true that mothers are often the heads of the home-wrecking crews than they are the captains of the salvage corps, and that nine times out of ten the most dangerous advice that any young married couple can take is that given by their mothers.

No one can explain why a woman who loves her children and desires to see them happy will urge them to do the very things that she knows will bring disaster upon them. Probably not one woman in 10,000 wants her children to live in a perpetual fight with their husbands and wives, or wants their homes broken up and them divorced and their children half-orphaned. Yet countless mothers do everything in their power to bring down these misfortunes on their children's heads and when they fail it is just the mercy of God, and not for lack of their own evil influences.

It is the rare mother who turns the spotlight on her son-in-law's virtues instead of his faults; who urges her daughter to greater efforts to please her husband and reminds her that there must be give and take in marriage; who counsels her daughter to be a good housekeeper and a thrifty manager and to live well within her husband's income and who, when the hard sledding comes, backs her daughter to stand up and do her duty instead of throwing up her hands and quitting.

On the contrary, most mothers' advice to their daughters is to take all and give nothing, and to consider themselves poor persecuted martyrs because they have to put up with a husband's weaknesses and keep house and bear children.

And it is a rare thing for a mother to praise her daughter-in-law to her son instead of knocking her, and as scarce as hens' teeth are the mothers who urge their sons to be tender and considerate to their wives and to do all in their power to make them happy and contented.

Many a man would never find out his wife spent more on her clothes than she should if his mother wasn't continually harping on how many new dresses Mary had and the scandalous number of shoes. Many a man would never find out that his wife wasn't a good housekeeper if his mother wasn't always poking in the garbage can and telling him that Susan peeled the potatoes too thick. Many a man would think his wife bright and entertaining because she went around and always had something fresh to talk about, if mother didn't put it into his head that she was frivolous and gadded too much.

And it is mother who first destroys her faith in her husband in many a woman's heart. It is mother who tells the young bride that no man is to be trusted and that she will have to watch her husband and that girl he works next to in the office. It is mother who eggs her daughter on to spending more than she should and makes her believe that her husband is a tightwad when he says he can't afford this or that. And it is mother who, when her children have a spat, doesn't urge them to kiss and make up, but tells daughter not to give in and advises son not to let any woman run over him.

Of course, it is hard for mothers who have always told their children what to do in every emergency to keep tongues off after they are married, but if they desire the welfare of their sons and daughters they will make the sacrifice. For mother's advice has wrecked more homes than drink and vamps combined.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am deeply in love with a handsome young man, but he puts pleasure above everything else. He won't work and he says there is no use in settling down until after marriage. Do you think that if he won't settle down and go to work before marriage he will afterward?

HELEN.

Answer—It has been done, but I earnestly advise you not to risk having a miracle passed for your benefit and behoof. It happens too seldom to make it a good gambling proposition.

Occasionally, about once in a blue moon a man who is pleasure-mad and idle and worthless does settle down and go to work after he gets married, but it doesn't happen that way often. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred the irresponsible butterfly goes on being a butterfly to the end, dancing and merry-making without taking any thought for the future.

As a matter of fact, many of these happy-go-lucky chaps can't settle down to any serious work because they are poor weaklings without the strength of character to stand up and fight the battle of life. They lack purpose and stability and a sense of responsibility. They are parasites, not sturdy oaks. They are playboys, not real men.

They are poor things for a woman to lean on because they always fall her in her need. They are the sort of men who are always out of a job, and whose families are always on the ragged edge of want. They make the sort of husbands who are off on a wild party when the baby is born, and who drag their families around the country in battered flippers following some will-o'-the-wisp of fortune that they never catch up with.

The world is full of wretched women who have married men who promised to be different after marriage; of wives who are still fishing the drunkards out of the gutter who were going to be sober after marriage; of wives who are taking in washing to support the ne'er-do-wells who were going to work after marriage; of wives who are still chasing the rounders who were going to settle down after marriage.

Isn't it about time for women to learn sense enough to marry men who are what they want in a husband before marriage, instead of marrying men who promise to be different after marriage?

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Do you think a married man really loves his wife if he makes love to her most intimate woman friend?

WONDERING.

Answer—No. If a man loves his wife, he doesn't need any other woman to make love to. She suffices. If a man loves his wife, he will not hurt and insult her by having an affair with her friend.

DOROTHY DIX.

BEATS TIME OF KINGSFORD-SMITH OVER TASMAN SEA

London, Jan. 28.—A record solo flight across the Tasman Sea from Sydney to New Zealand, a distance of 1,100 miles, is the latest exploit of the "Sports Avian" light biplane in which Air Commodore Charles Kingsford-Smith recently established the record of ten days for the journey from England to Australia, according to word received here. Piloted by its new owner, Guy Mangles, who is twenty-one years old, the machine accomplished the flight in 10 hours 15 minutes, averaging well over 100 miles an hour. Much of the journey lies over the open sea. He surpassed the previous best flying time over the distance, accomplished some while ago by Kingsford-Smith, by more than four hours.

Standardizing Survey Instruments. In the field of work of the topographical survey of the Department of the Interior a large number of instruments, which range from the simple to the complex are used. In order to keep these instruments properly standardized, and particularly to see that they fulfill the necessary requirements as the time of purchase, the physical testing laboratory of the topographical survey was instituted. The laboratory has been in existence some eighteen years.

LISTEN JIM—DOES THAT BULLET OUT OF THAT KID, BUT YOU AIN'T GONNA GET THE NAME OF THE ONE WHO SHOT IT OUT OF ME!

BECAUSE YOU LIKE THAT KID AND IF I TOLD YOU WHO SHOT HIM YOU'D MAKE TROUBLE—AND I'M BUSY ENOUGH AS IT IS!

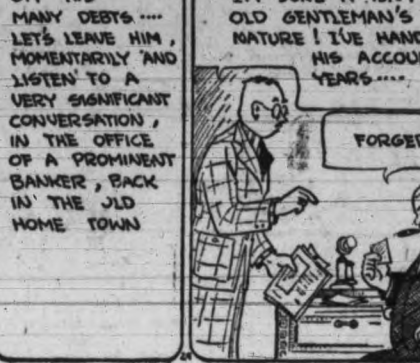

THEN YOU WON'T TELL ME WHO DID IT?

Boots And Her Buddies

WHILE TIPPY IS BUSY PAYING OFF HIS MANY DEBTS... LETS LEAVE HIM, MOMENTARILY AND LISTEN TO A VERY SIGNIFICANT CONVERSATION, IN THE OFFICE OF A PROMINENT BANKER, BACK IN THE OLD HOME TOWN

I'M POSITIVE OF IT! I'LL CALL HIM UP AND...

I WANT YOU TO TRACE THIS CHECK—FIND OUT WHAT YOU CAN ABOUT IT, AND REMEMBER—NOT A WORD ABOUT THIS TO ANYONE! IN THE MEANTIME, I'LL JUST HOLD ON TO THE CHECK

THRILLING EPISODE OF INDIAN LIFE IS NOW AT COLISEUM

An extremely interesting motion picture, "The Silent Enemy," is at the Coliseum Theatre to-day. There are several thrilling sequences in the picture—an amazingly vivid fight between a mountain lion and a wolverine, the trek of Indians through the snow as they look for game and the frenzied onrush of the caribou as a spectacular climax. "The Silent Enemy" is a refreshing variation in screen entertainment.

AL JOLSON STARS IN "MAMMY" HERE
AT THE COLUMBIA

Al Jolson's latest Warner Brothers and Vitaphone picture, "Mammy," now playing at the Columbia Theatre and the world famous star is at the height of the most remarkable career in entertainment history. It was difference some twenty-five years ago when he sang for Al Reeves' burlesque show which was playing a Pennsylvania city on Christmas eve. It was a cold, blustering night. Business was poor. People had better things to do than attend shows in Christmas Eve.

RAMON NOVARRO IS AT THE PLAYHOUSE
IN SPANISH DRAMA

Ramon Novarro did all his rehearsals for a Spanish picture in French. While filming "Call of the Flesh," now playing at the Playhouse Theatre, Novarro had with him two French attendants, and away from the microphone conversed entirely in French. The reason for this is that Novarro was "brushing up" on the language, so that, in case he were called upon to make a French version of any of his pictures, he would be better prepared. He learned French some years ago, and became adept at it during his European trips.

Four Twin-engined Craft
Made 28,000-Mile Air Journey on Schedule

London, Jan. 29.—The Italian formation flight across the Atlantic Ocean, an achievement unfortunately dimmed by the loss of three machines, recalls the tremendous pioneer cruises of British Royal Air Force flying boat squadrons. Greatest in aviation history of all such flights, not ranking second even to the recent Italian feat, is the journey of 28,000 miles accomplished according to schedule by four big twin-engined flying boats from England to the West and Australia, around the Australian continent, thence to Hong Kong and finally back to the base at Singapore. The craft which made this epic flight were standard Supermarine "Southampton" flying boats drawn from the ordinary equipment of the coastal patrol units. Day after day they progressed steadily, frequently through most difficult weather and climatic conditions, keeping to the pre-arranged time-table. Night after night the crews spent on board, demonstrating in quiet, almost humdrum, fashion the ability of these air boats to operate regularly as independent units in the most diverse circumstances. Throughout the journey the Napier "Lion" engines, two of which powered each machine, never failed to bring boats and men safely to the day's pre-determined destination.

EXPORTERS ARE GIVEN ADVICE

Toronto, Jan. 29.—When Canadians have learned to produce goods their potential purchasers desire, and not what Canadian manufacturers think they should buy, Canada's export trade will assume its true position. G. R. Stevens, Canadian trade commissioner to Peru, told members of the Canadian Export Club here yesterday. Great Britain, he said, stood pre-eminent among exporting nations of the world because its goods were produced to meet the demands of the purchasers.

GRIPPING DRAMA OF PIONEER DAYS
HERE AT CAPITOL

Before Raoul Walsh started production on his master directorial effort, "The Big Trail," Fox drama of pioneer days, now playing at the Capitol Theatre, he assembled the entire cast at the City and made the longest speech he has ever been known to make.

The gist of it was that they were going to re-enact the march of the pioneers toward the unknown west, the promised land, and that it was going to take four months at the least, and was to be no picnic or vacation. "The Big Trail" features ninety-three players in the cast with more than 20,000 extra players used during its production. John Wayne, a youth-tul discovery of Walsh, plays the male lead, Marguerite Churchill, the feminine lead and character, portrayals are contributed by El Brendel, Tukey Marshall, Tyrone Power, David Rollins, Frederick Burton, Russ Powell and Louise Carver.

PLENTY OF LAUGHS
IN WAR-TIME PLAY AT THE DOMINION

Wheeler and Robert Woolsey in Radio Pictures' wartime comedy, "Half Shot at Sunrise," is now showing at the Dominion Theatre. It is funnier than "The Cuckoo."

Wheeler and Woolsey, cast as doughboys, go A. W. O. L. in Paris. They impersonate officers... pose as heroes... slope with their colonel's daughter... steal his car... pull down the wrath of the whole army on their necks... make M.P.'s wonder about themselves in connection with the Darwin theory... and emerge heroes! The cast includes Hugh Trevor and Dorothy Lee, who also scored in "The Cuckoo." Edna May Oliver, the Parthy Ann Hawks of "Showboat," Roberta Robinson, "Cinderella Girl" of the movies, George MacFarlane, John Rutherford and the famous Tiller Sunshine girls, who do two unusual novelty numbers.

SOME SCHOOLS WILL RECEIVE HIGHER GRANTS

Boys' Central Requires Considerable Expenditure For Repairs

School Board Considers Estimates For Year; Will Meet Again Next Week

Lavatory repairs and replacements at Boys' Central School, calculated to cost in the neighborhood of $1,750, will be the chief factor in the increase in repairs, replacements and upkeep of ground expenditures in the school budget of Victoria. It was indicated in a tentative survey of work to be made at the School Board meeting yesterday evening. Without this amount, however, the particular section of the estimates was calculated to run about $1,900 above those of 1930. In the absence of Chairman George Jay and Inspector George Dean the board took no action. Another meeting will be held next Wednesday evening.

The policy of postponing repair and upkeep work in the city schools, followed to a certain extent in previous years, would only lead to greater costs ultimately. Trustee W. C. Moreby, K.C., pointed out in dealing with the separate expenditures for the various schools.

EXPECT HIGHER COLLEGE COST
General repairs, kalsomining, and work on the annex of Victoria College were expected to bring the total expenditures of that institution to approximately $900 against $555 last year. Similar work at Victoria High School was anticipated to increase the costs from $2,235 in 1930 to $2,555 this year. The proposed installation of an oil starter for the boilers at a cost of approximately $355 was one of the major expenditures considered by the school.

Electric lighting and the purchase of a junior lawn mower, for use at all city schools, were counted on to bring the expenditure of George Jay School from $1,335 in 1930 to $1,510 this year. Other work was planned.

Ground improvements at Girls' Central were anticipated to raise that school's costs from $765 last year to $985 in 1931. Apart from the major expenditure on lavatory equipment and installation, totaling about $1,750, Boys' Central estimates were tentatively fixed at $600, against $460 last year. Better lighting equipment was also sought for the school and will be installed immediately.

"HOUSECLEANING"
An intensive house cleaning and kalsomining at Sir James Douglas School this year was expected to raise the costs of the institution to $1,150 from $950 last year.

Margaret Jenkins grant was tentatively set at $1,255, the same as last year. Planned work at South Park would cost as much this year. It was thought, and the amounts for that school were lowered from the 1930 figure of $2,075 to $1,970. Playground improvements at Victoria West were expected to cause the expenditure on that institution to be raised from $1,160 to $1,314. Burnside was not thought to require the same amount as in 1930 and the draft expenditure for that school was set at $915, against $1,430.

A slight increase over last year's grant of $1,341 was seen in the tentative estimate for North Ward, where $1,437 was provisionally set aside.

Although the majority of individual school grants were expected to be higher, general expenses were to be reduced from $1,850 in 1930 to $1,645 this year as were heating expenses, etc., where the drop was anticipated to be from $3,600 last year to $2,550 in 1931.

First Leg of Cairo
To Cape Airways To Start on March 5

London, Jan. 29.—The Imperial Airways announce that regular flying will begin over the northernmost section of the Cairo-Cape Town air trunk line on March 5, when an inaugural flight will be made from Cairo to Mwanza, Tanganyika Territory—a distance of 2,670 miles.

Departure from London to connect with this first through air liner is scheduled for Saturday, February 28. Nine days after leaving London passengers will reach Mwanza. The swiftest surface transport takes twenty-four days.

The service between Cairo and Mwanza will be operated weekly in each direction, the first return flight beginning at Mwanza on March 10. Eight days later passengers and mails are timed to disembark at the London airport.

PRINCE TAKES OWN PLANE TO S. AMERICA

Will Use Latest Model of "Puss Moth" to Visit Principal Cities

London, Jan. 29.—The Prince of Wales, who will declare open on March 14 the British Empire Trade Exhibition at Buenos Aires, has taken his own light airplane for swift transport in pre-arranged tours over a large part of South America.

The airplane was placed on board the battleship Warspite at Portsmouth for carriage to the Mediterranean, where it was transferred for the journey to Argentina to the aircraft carrier Eagle, which is detailed to cruise in South American waters at the time of the Prince's visit.

His plans will take him over much of the South American continent and involve visits within a comparatively brief space of time to many of the principal cities of Chile, Peru, Argentina and Brazil. Various stages of his tour, notably from the Chile-Argentina border to Buenos Aires and later while visiting friends in the northern Argentine provinces, will be made by air. These journeys should provide an impressive demonstration of air travel in 1931, and the Prince's enthusiasm for flying is certain to awaken much interest among South American peoples.

The machine is a new 1931 model Puss Moth light monoplane, acquired by the Prince to replace a similar machine which he purchased as a birthday present to himself last year. The 1931 model differs from its predecessor in possessing wheel brakes and "air" wheels designed to provide additional safety in landing on rough or swampy ground.

E. H. Fielden, the Prince's personal pilot, will accompany him to South America.
